Russians Fail To "Win" Tito

Senate Approves 3½ Billion Aid Program

Entire Amount Sought By Ike Is Voted 59-18

Bill Sent To House Would Provide More Help For Free Asia

WASHINGTON, June 2 (AP)—The Senate tonight passed the entire 3½ billion dollar foreign aid program President Eisenhower has asked for the fiscal year starting July 1.

The vote was 59-18.

For the first time since 1950, the Senate failed to remove so much as one penny from the global aid authorization bill which Eisenhower on April 20 called "an indispensable part of a realistic and enlightened national policy. . ."

The bill now goes to the House.

Amendments Beaten

Soundly defeated in the Senate were a score of amendments to chop millions of dollars from various parts of the measure. The money itself still has to be voted in a separate bill.

The measure authorizes $1,595,000,000 in direct military aid to friendly foreign nations, more than half for Asia, and the balance in a variety of economic assistance programs, including a 200 million dollar development fund for the "Free Arc" of Asia. Already authorized for the new program was an additional 122 million dollars in defense funds, making the total precisely the $3,530,000,000 Eisenhower recommended.

George Leads Fight

Sen. George (D-Ga), chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, mustered a comfortable majority to beat back most amendments, including efforts to cut the over-all total, to compel the administration to handle a specified portion of economic aid as loans rather than grants, and to send the measure back to committee.

Sen. Ellender (D-La), author of a defeated amendment to reduce the total by one billion dollars, served notice he would fight for reductions in the forthcoming bill which will carry actual funds for the program.

Ford Reported Offering UAW 'Job Security'

Plan Said To Call For Furlough Pay Fund Of 55 Million

DETROIT, June 2 (AP)—The Ford Motor Co. today was reported to have accepted in principle the CIO United Auto Workers Union demand that industry continue part pay to employes when they are out of work.

That is the key point in the revolutionary guaranteed annual wage plan which the UAW is pressing on Ford and General Motors under a strike threat next week.

The union has announced it intends to insist on the year-around pay plan throughout the auto industry and other CIO unions are making the same demand in other major mass-production industries.

$55,000,000 Fund

The Detroit News said it learned from a high union official that Ford had offered a 55 million dollar, three-year "job security" fund that would be "unprecedented in industry."

"It appears to represent some of the thinking of both Ford's previous "partnership in prosperity" offer and the union's guaranteed annual wage plan," the News said. "It accepts the principle of providing for a Ford employe while he is out of work—the principle on which UAW President Walter P. Reuther insists."

As reported by the News, Ford offered to pay a percentage of weekly payroll toward a fund out of which laid-off workers would continue to receive jobless pay after their state unemployment compensation payments became exhausted.

Strikes Are Possible

Neither Ford nor the UAW would comment on the published report, pointing to their agreement to conduct negotiations in secret. The union was bargaining simultaneously with both Ford and General Motors.

Possible strikes faced Ford on Monday and GM on Tuesday but it was generally believed only one of the giant auto firms would be singled out for any strike action.

There were a number of scattered "wildcat" or unauthorized walkouts in Ford Co. plants yesterday and some more today. The company said some cars were "sabotaged" with scratches and knife slashes on assembly lines. The union made no comment.

Airmen, Families Joyfully Reunited

60,000 ADDICTS — Narcotics Commissioner Harry J. Anslinger tells a Senate Judiciary subcommittee there are about 60,000 drug addicts in the U. S. —one in every 3,000 persons. Despite progress made in the field of narcotic drug control, he said, "there is abundant evidence that drug addiction remains a serious problem." The subcommittee has opened hearings on the narcotics problems. (Story on page 2) (AP Wirephoto)

Two-Year Wait Comes To End

HONOLULU, June 2 (AP)—More than two years of anxious waiting ended today for the families of four U. S. fliers, back from the Korean War after lonely months in Red China's prisons.

A big, slick, blue and white Air Force plane brought the families here from the mainland to a tearful, happy reunion.

Events had moved fast this week for the four—Lt. Col. Edwin Heller, Wynnewood, Pa.; Capt. Harold E. Fischer, Swea City, Iowa; Lt. Lyle Cameron, Lincoln, Neb., and Lt. Roland W. Parks, Omaha.

Released at Hong Kong Tuesday, they had reached Honolulu only yesterday, astounded to learn that their families were being flown to Hawaii. This was the great moment to which they had looked during the cold days they spent in Manchurian prison cells.

Sport New Uniforms

They stood impatiently in spanking new Air Force uniforms as the plane rolled up toward the ramp at Hickam Air Force Base. They all carried orchid leis, the floral necklaces of Hawaii.

They fidgeted and craned their necks as the plane pulled up. They looked strained and taut under their joshing good humor.

Heller embraced his wife, Judith, first off the plane. He met her half way up the steps. They sobbed happily.

Fischer also raced up the steps and hugged his mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. Fischer Sr. Father and son pounded each other on the back. Their eyes were red as they came down the steps.

Cameron More Impetuous

Cameron was even more impetuous. He ran up the steps and grabbed his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rolland G. Cameron. He pounded his brother, Robert, 21, about the ribs.

Parks rushed up to embrace his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William G. Parks and his brother, Richard. The elder Parks could not speak until he reached the bottom of the ramp. Then he said: "I hope to God you're okay."

The families talked softly to each other in front of television cameras for a few minutes. In answer to a shout from the crowd, the elder Cameron said:

"I'm happy inside. That's all I know."

Declarations Signed By Two Nations Vague

Yugoslavia Supports Chinese Reds' Claim To Island Of Formosa

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, June 2 (AP)—Yugoslavia signed a declaration of principles with the Soviet Union tonight, but President Tito apparently did not yield an inch of his independence.

Nikita S. Khrushchev, Communist party boss in the Soviet Union who came here a week ago pleading for a political reconciliation with Tito, will leave tomorrow empty-handed, judging from what is now known.

Khrushchev, who led the six-man Soviet delegation here and did most of the talking, didn't even sign the declaration. He sat smiling at the green baize table of the Gardijski Dom (Guards' Palace) tonight, a Hero of the Soviet Union medal prominent on his lapel, as Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin scratched his name with Tito's on the document.

(In Washington, the State Department declined immediate comment on the joint statement, saying more time was needed to study it and receive reports from American diplomats on the scene. But responsible U. S. officials said privately there seemed to be nothing new or startling in the vague declarations. They said that the fuzziness of the wording on the section referring to Formosa led them to believe it did not necessarily mean Tito agreed to support Red China's claim to Formosa.

Yugo Press Backed Peiping

(These officials noted the government-controlled Yugoslav press has already backed Peiping's demand for Formosa, that Tito recognized Red China in 1949, and that Yugoslav representatives voted to seat the Peiping regime in U. N.)

Relations of the Communist parties in the two countries were not even mentioned in the declaration. The principal points it made were:

1. Yugoslavia supports "the satisfaction of the legitimate rights of the (Communist) People's Republic of China with regard to Taiwan (Formosa). . ."

2. Yugoslavia and the Soviet Union support a settlement of the German question "on a democratic basis, in conformity both with the wishes and desires of the German people and with the interests of general security."

3. Both governments support "a system of collective security in Europe based on a treaty."

U.N. Seat For Red China

4. The role and authority of the United Nations should be strengthened, and Communist China should be given a seat in the U. N.

5. The two governments have decided to conduct their future relations "in a spirit of friendly cooperation" and conclude arrangements for improving economic relations.

6. "Respect for the sovereignty, independence, integrity and equality among states in their mutual relations and in their relations with other states. Recognition and development of peaceful coexistence among nations regardless of ideological differences or differences of social order. . . compliance with the principle of mutual respect for, and non-interference in, internal affairs for whatever reason, wheth-

Alabama Moves To Contest Ban On Segregation

ATLANTA, Ga., June 2 (AP)—More legal aid to oppose suits growing out of the Supreme Court's May 31 ban on segregation in the schools was requested in Alabama today.

Meanwhile, a second Southern school board vowed to close its schools if forced to comply with the court decision and a judge in Virginia ruled that expenditure of a million dollar bond issue for school construction is illegal.

Alabama's Atty. Gen. John Patterson asked the Legislature for funds to hire four additional attorneys "primarily to handle the multiplicity of segregation suits."

Local Court Battles Set

The Supreme Court left it up to local courts to determine when it is "feasible" to abolish the traditional educational system of separate schools for whites and Negroes in the South.

Patterson told the Legislature that the "initial suits will be the most important, and we must be ready to handle them properly."

He added that if given the extra legal aid, "I feel sure we can fulfill our mission (of opposing integration)."

The governing board of Prince Edward County, Va., today reaffirmed its stand it would operate no public schools unless the races were kept separate.

Bond Issue Threatened

The Virginia group's action followed a similar course set by the Summerton, S. C., Board of Education yesterday.

The Prince Edward schools were part of the original case considered by the Supreme Court before its historic ruling of last year that segregation in the schools was illegal.

Also in Virginia, Circuit Judge Leon M. Bazile held that any expenditure of Hanover County's million dollar bond issue for school construction is illegal. He enjoined the county school board from issuing bonds or using them for any school purpose.

Woman Completes Suicide Agreement

NEW YORK, June 2 (AP)—Last Tuesday, Mrs. Rose Bergen and her 37-year-old daughter poisoned a bottle of wine and drank it, trying to die together in a suicide pact.

"We hope to find blessings in another world," they said in a note.

Mrs. Bergen, 67, died. But her daughter, Hilda, survived. At Bellevue Hospital, she was improving.

Parents Of Fliers Presumed Dead Return Award

LEMONT FURNACE, Pa., June 2 (AP)—The distraught parents of an American airman presumed dead in Korea have sent his Purple Heart award back to the White House. They called it an empty honor.

Ottley R. Coulter and his wife, Ethel, believe their son, 1st Lt. John R. Coulter, is a Communist prisoner. They wrote President Eisenhower:

"We believe that our son and his Communist-held comrades deserve more than medals. We believe they deserve the same loyalty fro mthe government that they gave the government."

The White House had no comment on the letter. It was turned over to the Defense Department for an answer.

Ike May Visit Farm

WASHINGTON, June 2 (AP)—President Eisenhower may drive to Gettysburg, Pa., tomorrow for a brief visit at his country home.

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, told newsmen he would know definitely in the morning whether the President will make the trip.

New Bipartisan Security Probe Group Proposed

WASHINGTON, June 2 (AP)—A new bipartisan commission to investigate the government's security program from top to bottom was proposed unanimously today by a Senate subcommittee.

The action was hailed by former Sen. Harry Cain of Washington state, a leading critic of the present government employe security program, as "a tremendous step in the direction of preserving freedom in this country."

Cain hit out anew at the present setup in testimony before a Senate Civil Service subcommittee. He blasted the attorney general's subversive organization list as "a warped and wormy measuring rod," and declared:

"The question 'Am I a security risk?'—asked anxiously of themselves by some millions of citizens on the basis of present or past membership in listed organizations —may apply to some senators and congressmen as well."

Congressmen CRC Sponsors

Cain, now a member of the Subversive Activities Control Board, said government witnesses have listed 10 or 12 members of Congress, whom he did not name, among the original sponsors of the Civil Rights Congress. The organization now is classed as subversive by the Justice Department, which says the Communists have taken control of it.

Cain proposed creation of a "command authority" to set uniform standards for the seven different loyalty and security programs now operating in the federal government.

Commission Proposed

While Cain testified in the Civil Service group's inquiry into security questions, the 12-member investigating commission was proposed by a different body—a Government Operations subcommittee headed by Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn).

Sponsored by Humphrey and Sen. Stennis (D-Miss), and approved by the three Republicans as well as the four Democrats on the committee, the resolution calls for a sound program vigorously enforced "in a manner which will protect the national security and preserve basic American rights.,'

Three Will Die In Gas Chamber

SAN QUENTIN, Calif., June 2 (AP)—A pretty woman with a gaudy past and two mobsters who have killed at least six persons in search of money must die in San Quentin's gas chamber tomorrow.

The woman is scheduled to die first—at 10 a. m. She is Mrs. Barbara Graham, 32, four times married, mother of three. She has a record since 13 of prostitution, lewd conduct and vagrancy.

The multiple killers are Jack Santo, 54, the brains of a mountain mob, and a flat-nosed sidekick, Emmett Perkins, 47. They are to die together at 1 p. m.

The trio was convicted of pistol-whipping to death a widow, Mrs. Mabel Monahan, 63, March 11, 1953, in the mistaken belief that a former son-in-law, a Las Vegas gambler, had hidden $100,000 in her Burbank home.

Mrs. Graham denies any connection. Her only mistake, she says, was in getting mixed up with Santo and Perkins.

British Strike Forces Closing Of Steel Plants

LONDON, June 2 (AP)—Britain's railway strike tonight forced the shutdown of six Welsh steel plants. Peacemaking efforts by top trade union officials ended in a deadlock.

The steel works closing, caused by a shortage of coal and scrap iron and affecting 2,700 men, was the first major industrial stoppage because of the five-day-old strike of engineers and firemen.

It foreshadowed widespread unemployment and progressive paralysis of the industrial machine if the strike drags on into next week.

Cabinet Meets

The Cabinet met for the first time since Prime Minister Eden led his Conservatives to an election victory over the Labor party a week ago. It studied effects of the railway strike on the nation's economy and considered a report on the 11-day-old walkout of stevedores at six ports which is impeding Britain's export drive.

A peacemaking committee of the powerful Trades Union Congress met with officials of the striking Associated Society of Locomotive Engineers and Firemen in an effort to find a way to end the stoppage.

"No progress has been made," a TUC statement said. "The facts of the situation are being reported to the minister of labor."

TUC's Second Rebuff

It was the second rebuff the TUC received within two days from ASLEF, which is demanding a restoration of wage differentials between its 67,000 engineers and firemen and less skilled railway workers. The latter are mostly members of the 400,000-strong National Union of Railwaymen, which opposes the strike. The strikers want their weekly base pay raised the equivalent of $1.12 to $28.42.

REDWOOD CITY, Calif., June 2 (AP)—Earl Lee Huntington, 69, veteran actor known professionally as Earl Lee, died today.

New Polio Vaccine Better, Salk Says

NEW YORK, June 2 (AP)—Dr. Jonas E. Salk said today polio vaccines now in use "are better than those used in the field trials." He added that they should lower the rate of paralytic polio.

An analysis of the field trials of the Salk vaccine last year showed it between 80 and 90 per cent effective against polio.

Dr. Salk told a news conference that probably more cases of so-called polio would be reported than ever before. Other ailments are often mistaken for polio, he contended, just as many other disturbances are referred to in winter as influenza.

The vaccine is intended to guard against paralytic polio, Dr. Salk continued, and figures should be kept of both paralytic and non-paralytic polio.

$1.25 Minimum Wage Demanded

WASHINGTON, June 2 (AP)—Rep. Madden (D-Ind) demanded today that the national minimum wage be $1.25 an hour, to help slow down what he called a flight of industry to "low wage" Southern states.

Madden, whose district includes the great industrial concentration at Gary, said the 90-cent minimum proposed by President Eisenhower isn't enough to keep up with the cost of living. The minimum is now 75 cents.

He tangled frequently, in hearings of the House Labor Committee with Chairman Barden (D-NC), whose district is largely rural but includes some textile manufacturing.

Rep. Dollinger (D-NY), from New York's Bronx, also called for a $1.25 an hour minimum. Further, Dollinger said, coverage should be nationwide with no exceptions.

Cell Thickening In Smokers' Lung Air Tubes Is Detected

ATLANTIC CITY, June 2 (AP)—Discovery of an apparent physical difference in the lungs of cigarette smokers compared with nonsmokers was reported tonight.

The difference is more thickening of certain cells in the mucus lining of the lung air tubes in smokers, although some also occurs in nonsmokers.

Some authorities consider this thickening pre-cancerous, leading to cancer if it continues long enough, while others do not.

The cell thickening was detected in microscopic studies of lungs of 41 humans by Drs. Oscar Auerbach, Thomas G. Petrick, Arthur Purdy Stout, Arnold L. Statsinger, Gerald E. Muehsam, Jerome B. Forman and J. Brewster Gere in research at the Veterans Administration Hospital, East Orange, N. J. They gave their findings at a symposium before the American College of Chest Physicians.

More studies and more cases are needed before this could be called a link between smoking and lung cancer, said Dr. Auerbach, a pathologist specializing in chest diseases. Forty-one is a small number. It included eight nonsmokers, the rest had been light to heavy smokers.

The thickening was found in basal cells, those which form the under layer of the lining of the windpipe (trachea) and air tubes (bronchi) which distribute air through the lungs.

These basal cells are the ones which divide and grow if there is injury or irritation to the tubes, Dr. Auerbach said. They form new layers or rows.

In nonsmokers, the pathologists usually found only three to five layers of basal cells, a very slight amount of thickening. In smokers, some had seven layers, some up to 18 or 20.

83 Hurt As New York Subway Trains Collide

NEW YORK, June 2 (AP)—Two crowded subway trains collided at the height of the morning rush hour today, injuring 83 persons. Nine of those injured were hospitalized.

A southbound train struck the rear of another train which had stopped in a tunnel near the Hunts Point station in the Bronx. Both trains were operating on the Lexington Ave. line.

House Unit Approves 8% Postal Pay Boost

WASHINGTON, June 2 (AP)—Pay raises for the government's 500,000 postal workers came a step closer today when the House Post Office Committee approved an average increase of 8 per cent.

The pay bill, a substitute for one President Eisenhower vetoed, will come before the House Tuesday and probably will be passed quickly. The Senate approved it 78-0 yesterday. Congressional leaders are confident the President will sign it.

Postal raises would be retroactive to March 1 and would give every employe at least 6 per cent more. The estimated cost is 164 million dollars a year.

Priest On Money-Raising Mission Slashed To Death

CHICAGO, June 2 (AP)—A Roman Catholic priest on a fund-raising trip in behalf of a project in his native India was slain today and police considered robbery a likely motive.

Slashed on his neck and shoulder by a sharp weapon, The Rev. John Chiramal, 40, staggered into the Little Sisters of the Poor residence at 1255 W. Harrison St., and collapsed about 5:55 a. m.

He died several hours later in Mother Cabrini Hospital.

Policeman Espy Knox said the dying clergyman mumbled "I was robbed." Asked where, he replied, "far away . . . 2 o'clock."

His blood stained 1955 automobile was parked in front of The Little Sisters of the Poor residence. It bore Pennsylvania license plates. The priest recently had lived at 1302 Ellsworth Ave., in Philadelphia.

When he reached the Little Sisters home Father Chiramal was wearing plain shorts and a plaid shirt. A bloodstained shirt and shorts were found in the car. The upholstery bore a slash indicating it had been made by the knife that wounded him.

Police found his clerical garb in a box in the luggage compartment of the automobile.

Father Chiramal, founder of Boys Town in India, had been in the United States for four years, traveling extensively to raise funds for his project. He came to Chicago to solicit funds from among prominent Indians here for the Rotary International convention.

Hammarskjold Is Encouraged

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., June 2 (AP)—Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold said today he is encouraged by Red China's release of four American aviators. He added he will not rest or relax his efforts until 11 other American fliers are sent home from Communist Chinese jails.

The 11 Americans still held may be a more difficult case. They were convicted by Peiping of alleged espionage against Communist China. The four fliers released earlier this week were not charged with anything at the time Hammarskjold talked with Premier Chou En-lai in Peiping last January about the 15 fliers.

Hammarskjold obviously was happy about the release of the four men. But he refused to be drawn into a row about who gets the credit. He was asked to comment on a statement by V. K. Krishna Menon, Indian diplomat who recently talked with Chou, that the fliers were released at the request of the government of Indian. Hammarskjold smiled and said he had read that with "some little surprise." He said Menon will see him on his arrival at the U. N. June 9.

U. N. officials claim Hammarskjold's efforts were responsible.

Bill Provides Free Polio Vaccine For All Children

WASHINGTON, June 2 (AP)—The seven Democrats on the Senate Labor and Welfare Committee tonight introduced a bill calling for free distribution of Salk polio vaccine to children, regardless of ability to pay.

With a new blast at the administration's now-stalled rival plan, Chairman Hill (D-Ala) called the committee to meet Monday morning to choose between the two. The Democrats have a one vote edge on the six Republican members.

Hill told the Senate in a speech the President is asking for enough money to provide free vaccine "for only approximately 11 million out of the 51 million children in the country who should be inoculated as rapidly as the vaccine becomes available."

"This necessarily would result in lining up many of the children of America in their schools and dividing them publicly between objects of charity and those whose parents can afford to pay for the vaccine," he said.

"We do not believe that a boon to all humanity should be converted into an instrumentality of humiliation of multitudes of American children.

"Consequently, it is our intention to approve legislation which will, without a means test, make the Salk vaccine available to every American child."

Hill said the seven Democrats' bill "will make it possible for any community to secure free vaccine, paid for by the government, for all its children within approved age groups so long as it (the community) gives reasonable assurances that free vaccinations will be available to all children in such age groups whose parents desire the free vaccination."

He gave no estimate of the cost. President Eisenhower has asked for a 28 million dollar vaccine fund, which the Democrats contend would be enough to provide free vaccine only for those unable to pay.

Back of the Democrats' move is a hot fight with the administration on the way to handle the polio program. One big issue has been the subject of controls. The administration is for a voluntary system, but the Senate Committee, dominated by Democrats, has been considering giving the President standby powers to slap on government controls.

However, on four occasions the committee has been unable to muster a quorum because no Republicans appeared.

Indian Effort For U. S., China Talks In Making

LONDON, June 2 (AP)—A new Indian effort to get the United States and Red China together to talk about Formosa was reported in the making tonight.

V. K. Krishna Menon, special Indian ambassador, is due here from New Delhi tomorrow to see Prime Minister Eden and seek British support for a conference. Menon left Communist China May 21 after talks with Mao Tze-tung and Premier Chou En-lai.

60,000 Addicts In U. S. Spend $10 Day On Narcotics

WASHINGTON, June 2 (AP) — Narcotics Commissioner Harry J. Anslinger testified today there are an estimated 60,000 drug addicts in the United States, spending an average of $10 a day on narcotics. Most addicts steal to get money for drugs, he told Senate investigators, and the evil represents an enormous economic loss to the nation.

The commissioner said one out of 3,000 Americans is a drug addict. The goal, he said, is to get back to one in 10,000, a figure achieved between 1938 and 1948 when "addiction had reached an irreducible minimum."

The two outstanding steps that can be taken to control the dope trade, Anslinger said, are "to punish the trafficker and to compel the addict to take treatment."

He appeared before a Senate Judiciary subcommittee at the opening of an inquiry into the narcotics traffic looking toward stronger laws to cope with it.

Tom Reid, chairman of the Canadian Senate's Narcotics Investigating Committee, sat at the subcommittee table briefly and noted it was the first time a Canadian senator had participated in a U. S. Senate hearing.

The subcommittee was informed that Canada has some 3,200 drug addicts, about a third of them on its west coast, whereas the greatest concentrations in this country are in the New York, Chicago and Los Angeles areas.

Washington Area CD Agency Is Proposed

WASHINGTON, June 2 (AP)—Rep. Broyhill (R-Va) today introduced a bill to provide for the creation of a civil defense agency having jurisdiction for the metropolitan Washington area.

The area would cover Prince Georges and Montgomery counties in Maryland, and Arlington and Fairfax counties in Virginia, and Alexandria and Falls Church, also in Virginia.

Broyhill's bill said because of the "unprecedented destructive power" of atomic weapons, especially thermonuclear bombs, with attendant radio-active contamination and fallout, an attack in Washington would "inevitably" endanger the adjacent areas.

Baltimorean Flees Jail At Milford, Pa.

Authorities identified him as Justin J. Burdo, 25, of Baltimore, Md., who was being held for hearing June 20 for allegedly failing to comply with a court order to pay his first wife, Dorothy, of Dingman's Ferry, Pa., $15 a week for support of their child.

Police Chief Hops On Water Wagon To Arrest Bandit

WILLIAMSBURG, Ky., June 2 (AP)—Chief of Police Vester Mays hopped a water wagon and raced four blocks from his office to the Bank of Williamsburg today to arrest an armed bandit who had just robbed the bank of an estimated $10,000.

City Councilman Otis Crowley arrived on the heels of Mays and helped the chief pull the robber from the wheel of his getaway car. The pistol used in the robbery, a foreign-make automatic, lay on the front seat.

Mays was alerted by a bank alarm system touched off by C. J. Ellison, a teller, while the bandit was collecting cash he had forced Eugene Lovette, another teller, to collect.

The man was identified from a social security card as Harvie Edward Hill, 33, of Rockhold, Ky., seven miles from Williamsburg.

Middies Cheer Their Color Girl

ANNAPOLIS, June 2 (AP) — A pretty brunette television actress received the cheers of the Navy today at one of its oldest and most picturesque ceremonies — the annual color parade highlighting June Week.

In a Naval Academy tradition dating back to 1871, Miss Marilyn Mohr of New York passed the national and brigade colors to a color guard from the 18th Company commanded by her sweetheart, Midn. John R. Johnson of Whidbey Island, Wash.

She gave him the customary kiss and, in return, got three roaring cheers from the 18th, which will carry the colors throughout next year as its prize for being the best of 24 in the brigade in year-long competition.

The cheers were echoed by the 3,400-man brigade, with white caps being hoisted aloft on each roar.

The impact of Miss Mohr on the Navy was no more than the Navy's impact on her. She announced immediately after the ceremonies that she and Johnson are planning to be married "very soon," possibly before leaving here. They originally thought of waiting a year, until he completed flight training in the Air Force.

Coal Amendment Is Knocked Out Of Gas Measure

WASHINGTON, June 2 (AP)—Coal industry forces were beaten back today in new attempts to write protection for coal into natural gas legislation.

The House Commerce Committee, which yesterday approved one coal amendment by a 12-11 vote, today knocked it out—by "a margin of several votes," Chairman Priest (D-Tenn) told newsmen.

Meeting in closed session, the committee struck down several other proposals by Rep. Staggers (D-WVa)—all designed to improve coal's position as a fuel competitive with natural gas.

They were offered as amendments to a bill by Rep. Harris (D-Ark) to remove producers selling gas to interstate pipelines from price regulation by the Federal Power Commission (FPC).

The next committee meeting is scheduled for Tuesday.

The coal amendment on which the committee reversed itself would have required the FPC to "consider" the effect any of its actions relating to natural gas might have on other fuels industries.

Carpenter Convicted Of Assaulting Girl, 13

BALTIMORE, June 2 (AP) — Ivel Odie Smith, 36-year-old carpenter, was convicted in Federal Court today of assault with intent to rape the 13-year-old daughter of his landlady.

The jury, which deliberated four hours after two and a half days of testimony, found Smith innocent of a charge of rape and another count of carnally knowing the young school girl.

The government said the alleged assault took place April 2 on the grounds of the Army's Aberdeen Proving Ground after Smith and the girl had pulled ashore from a Chesapeake Bay fishing outing.

Defense attorneys asked that sentencing be postponed pending new trial moves and Judge W. Calvin Chesnut agreed after asking for probation reports on the defendant.

Reds Cut Berlin Rail Phones To Halt Spying

BERLIN, June 2 (AP)—Communist East Germany said tonight it has cut Berlin's railway telephone lines in order to stop what it termed American spying.

The action was taken Tuesday. This was the first Communist acknowledgment of it.

The severed telephone lines threw a scare into the riders of Berlin's elevated railways because station masters in Allied West Berlin can no longer make direct reports on broken rails or other railway troubles.

The station masters now will have to contact a Communist-operated West Berlin office, which would then telephone East Berlin headquarters via the single remaining telephone line.

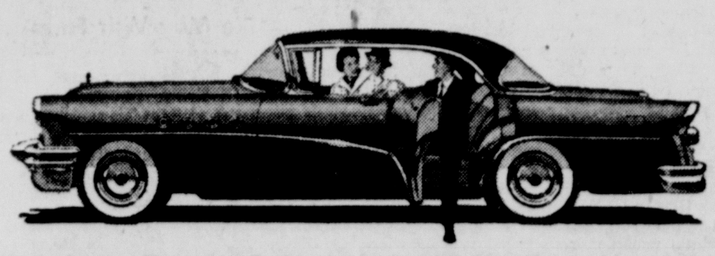
It's the new kind of hardtop— The 4-Door Riviera!



THERE seems to be some confusion about what a hardtop really is, and we'd like to set the matter straight.

A hardtop is a car that looks like a Convertible with the top up—but has a solid steel roof overhead—and no center posts in the side window areas.

Up until just recently, it could be built in volume only with two doors—not more—because it would take wholly new structural principles to hinge another set of doors without floor-to-roof center posts.

But Buick came up with those new structural principles and is now building—in volume—hardtops with four doors.

You see one pictured here. It's the 4-Door Riviera. And it's taking the country by storm . . .

Because here, at long last, is an automobile with the sleek and sporty styling of a true hardtop—but with separate doors for rear-seat passengers, plus the added room of a full-size Buick Sedan.

On top of that, this beauty is all Buick—with the buoyant ride of Buick's all-coil springing—the walloping might of Buick's record-high V8 power—the whip-quick getaway and sizable gas savings of Buick's spectacular Variable Pitch Dynaflow.*

And it's available in Buick's two lowest-priced Series—the budget-tagged 188-hp SPECIAL, and the high-performance 236-hp CENTURY, illustrated here.

Come visit us for a first-hand meeting with the 4-Door Riviera—and see how quickly and how easily the last word in automobiles can be yours.

Army Incentive Plan Provides Trips To Resort

By BOB WOLCOTT
Galveston Daily News Staff

GALVESTON, Tex., June 2 (AP)—The Army is launching a real cool program at historic Ft. Crockett.

Namesake Davy, who fought in an earlier era, might not think much of it. But then Davy never saw a modern army.

Hundreds of troops at hot, dusty Ft. Hood in central Texas will win seven-day trips to this gulf-cooled island resort city this spring and summer. They'll stay at Ft. Crokett, just a stroll from glistening beaches, fishing piers, fine restaurants and other attractions.

It's an incentive plan for soldiers, says Uncle Sam.

Approximately 16,000 Ft. Hood troops with high training marks will go. The program calls for rotating 600-800 men to the site each week for training and recreation until the last of September.

The first arrivals, a contingent of engineers, arrived May 19 under the command of Maj. T. W. Marcinkowski.

Said the major, a bemedaled overseas veteran:

"A week of training and recreation on this pleasant island should do a great deal for the morale of any GI. I am overwhelmed by the welcome we have received here."

The 125-acre fort has served lots of purposes since it was built in 1897 and named after Davy Crockett—the frontier hero who died at the Alamo in 1836 during Texas' fight for independence.

Since World War II, however, Ft. Crockett has lain almost dormant, serving only as home for two National Guard units.

Not even a civic row over prostitution has changed the Army's recreation plan.

(Mayor-elect George Ray Clough has charged prostitutes operate all over Galveston and has suggested an out-and-out bawdy house district limited to one area.)

Coal Pipeline Construction Is Assured

PITTSBURGH, June 2 (AP)—Construction of the nation's first commercial pipeline to transport coal was assured today.

Pittsburgh Consolidation Coal Co. and the Cleveland Electric Illuminating Co. announced they have entered into a contract for the delivery of about 18 million tons of coal over a 15-year period.

The 108-mile pipeline will be built in Ohio. It will extend from the coal company's Georgetown properties to the Eastlake plant of the illuminating company.

Construction is to begin shortly, an official of Pittsburgh Consolidation, said. The cost is estimated between eight and 10 million dollars.

George H. Love, president of Pittsburgh Consolidation, said the pipeline is being built with the complete co-operation of two railroads serving the company's mine and a third railroad on which the utility plant is located.

Participating with the coal company are the Pennsylvania Railroad, the New York Central and the New York, Chicago and St. Louis Railroad.

Building of the pipeline climaxes a long period of experimentation. After the coal is mined it will be cleaned and pressed into small pieces. Then it will be mixed with water in the pipeline. Several pumping stations will push it along the way. At the receiving end, the mixture will be "dewatered" and the coal stored for use to help make electricity.

Bill Provides Free Polio Vaccine For All Children

WASHINGTON, June 2 (AP)—The seven Democrats on the Senate Labor and Welfare Committee tonight introduced a bill calling for free distribution of Salk polio vaccine to children, regardless of ability to pay.

With a new blast at the administration's now-stalled rival plan, Chairman Hill (D-Ala) called the committee to meet Monday morning to choose between the two. The Democrats have a one vote edge on the six Republican members.

Hill told the Senate in a speech the President is asking for enough money to provide free vaccine "for only approximately 11 million out of the 51 million children in the country who should be inoculated as rapidly as the vaccine becomes available."

"This necessarily would result in lining up many of the children of America in their schools and dividing them publicly between objects of charity and those whose parents can afford to pay for the vaccine," he said.

"We do not believe that a boon to all humanity should be converted into an instrumentality of humiliation of multitudes of American children.

"Consequently, it is our intention to approve legislation which will, without a means test, make the Salk vaccine available to every American child."

Hill said the seven Democrats' bill "will make it possible for any community to secure free vaccine, paid for by the government, for all its children within approved age groups so long as it (the community) gives reasonable assurances that free vaccinations will be available to all children in such age groups whose parents desire the free vaccination."

He gave no estimate of the cost. President Eisenhower has asked for a 28 million dollar vaccine fund, which the Democrats contend would be enough to provide free vaccine only for those unable to pay.

Back of the Democrats' move is a hot fight with the administration on the way to handle the polio program. One big issue has been the subject of controls. The administration is for a voluntary system, but the Senate Committee, dominated by Democrats, has been considering giving the President standby powers to slap on government controls.

However, on four occasions the committee has been unable to muster a quorum because no Republicans appeared.

Indian Effort For U. S., China Talks In Making

LONDON, June 2 (AP)—A new Indian effort to get the United States and Red China together to talk about Formosa was reported in the making tonight.

V. K. Krishna Menon, special Indian ambassador, is due here from New Delhi tomorrow to see Prime Minister Eden and seek British support for a conference. Menon left Communist China May 21 after talks with Mao Tze-tung and Premier Chou En-lai.

60,000 Addicts In U. S. Spend $10 Day On Narcotics

WASHINGTON, June 2 (AP) — Narcotics Commissioner Harry J. Anslinger testified today there are an estimated 60,000 drug addicts in the United States, spending an average of $10 a day on narcotics. Most addicts steal to get money for drugs, he told Senate investigators, and the evil represents an enormous economic loss to the nation.

The commissioner said one out of 3,000 Americans is a drug addict. The goal, he said, is to get back to one in 10,000, a figure achieved between 1938 and 1948 when "addiction had reached an irreducible minimum."

The two outstanding steps that can be taken to control the dope trade, Anslinger said, are "to punish the trafficker and to compel the addict to take treatment."

He appeared before a Senate Judiciary subcommittee at the opening of an inquiry into the narcotics traffic looking toward stronger laws to cope with it.

Tom Reid, chairman of the Canadian Senate's Narcotics Investigating Committee, sat at the subcommittee table briefly and noted it was the first time a Canadian senator had participated in a U. S. Senate hearing.

The subcommittee was informed that Canada has some 3,200 drug addicts, about a third of them on its west coast, whereas the greatest concentrations in this country are in the New York, Chicago and Los Angeles areas.

Washington Area CD Agency Is Proposed

WASHINGTON, June 2 (AP)—Rep. Broyhill (R-Va) today introduced a bill to provide for the creation of a civil defense agency having jurisdiction for the metropolitan Washington area.

The area would cover Prince Georges and Montgomery counties in Maryland, and Arlington and Fairfax counties in Virginia, and Alexandria and Falls Church, also in Virginia.

Broyhill's bill said because of the "unprecedented destructive power" of atomic weapons, especially thermonuclear bombs, with attendant radio-active contamination and fallout, an attack in Washington would "inevitably" endanger the adjacent areas.

Baltimorean Flees Jail At Milford, Pa.

MILFORD, Pa., June 2 (AP) — An inmate escaped from the Pike County jail here today.

Authorities identified him as Justin J. Burdo, 25, of Baltimore, Md., who was being held for hearing June 20 for allegedly failing to comply with a court order to pay his first wife, Dorothy, of Dingman's Ferry, Pa., $15 a week for support of their child.

Police Chief Hops On Water Wagon To Arrest Bandit

WILLIAMSBURG, Ky., June 2 (AP)—Chief of Police Vester Mays hopped a water wagon and raced four blocks from his office to the Bank of Williamsburg today to arrest an armed bandit who had just robbed the bank of an estimated $10,000.

City Councilman Otis Crowley arrived on the heels of Mays and helped the chief pull the robber from the wheel of his getaway car. The pistol used in the robbery, a foreign-make automatic, lay on the front seat.

Mays was alerted by a bank alarm system touched off by C. J. Ellison, a teller, while the bandit was collecting cash he had forced Eugene Lovette, another teller, to collect.

The man was identified from a social security card as Harvie Edward Hill, 33, of Rockhold, Ky., seven miles from Williamsburg.

Middies Cheer Their Color Girl

ANNAPOLIS, June 2 (AP) — A pretty brunette television actress received the cheers of the Navy today at one of its oldest and most picturesque ceremonies — the annual color parade highlighting June Week.

In a Naval Academy tradition dating back to 1871, Miss Marilyn Mohr of New York passed the national and brigade colors to a color guard from the 18th Company commanded by her sweetheart, Midn. John R. Johnson of Whidbey Island, Wash.

She gave him the customary kiss and, in return, got three roaring cheers from the 18th, which will carry the colors throughout next year as its prize for being the best of 24 in the brigade in year-long competition.

The cheers were echoed by the 3,400-man brigade, with white caps being hoisted aloft on each roar.

The impact of Miss Mohr on the Navy was no more than the Navy's impact on her. She announced immediately after the ceremonies that she and Johnson are planning to be married "very soon," possibly before leaving here. They originally thought of waiting a year, until he completed flight training in the Air Force.

Coal Amendment Is Knocked Out Of Gas Measure

WASHINGTON, June 2 (AP)—Coal industry forces were beaten back today in new attempts to write protection for coal into natural gas legislation.

The House Commerce Committee, which yesterday approved one coal amendment by a 12-11 vote, today knocked it out—by "a margin of several votes," Chairman Priest (D-Tenn) told newsmen.

Meeting in closed session, the committee struck down several other proposals by Rep. Staggers (D-WVa)—all designed to improve coal's position as a fuel competitive with natural gas.

They were offered as amendments to a bill by Rep. Harris (D-Ark) to remove producers selling gas to interstate pipelines from price regulation by the Federal Power Commission (FPC).

The next committee meeting is scheduled for Tuesday.

The coal amendment on which the committee reversed itself would have required the FPC to "consider" the effect any of its actions relating to natural gas might have on other fuels industries.

Carpenter Convicted Of Assaulting Girl, 13

BALTIMORE, June 2 (AP) — Ivel Odie Smith, 36-year-old carpenter, was convicted in Federal Court today of assault with intent to rape the 13-year-old daughter of his landlady.

The jury, which deliberated four hours after two and a half days of testimony, found Smith innocent of a charge of rape and another count of carnally knowing the young school girl.

The government said the alleged assault took place April 2 on the grounds of the Army's Aberdeen Proving Ground after Smith and the girl had pulled ashore from a Chesapeake Bay fishing outing.

Defense attorneys asked that sentencing be postponed pending new trial moves and Judge W. Calvin Chesnut agreed after asking for probation reports on the defendant.

Methodists Launch Stewardship Drive

WESTMINSTER, Md., June 2 (AP)—Methodists of the Baltimore Conference today launched a special stewardship campaign designed to inspire church members to regular and more generous giving.

"This will not be a brief, intensive crusade," explained Harry Schuh, Baltimore attorney who is lay leader of the 183,000 Methodists in the conference.

"It will be an extended spiritual experience."

Schuh led a panel of church leaders who discussed the plans and goals today before the opening business meeting of the annual conference at Western Maryland College.

It had been announced earlier that Dr. Asbury Smith, superintendent of the Washington West District, would head the stewardship campaign throughout the conference, which includes 350 churches and preaching circuits in Washington, Baltimore, and the Maryland counties west of Chesapeake Bay.

The Rev. Edwin Ross, pastor of Howard Park Church in Baltimore, E. Herman Erickson from Hamline Church in Washington and Granvel Stewart of Waverly Church in Baltimore, joined Schuh in the panel discussion.

When they had finished, Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam declared:

"We are talking now about the very life, the future of the church.

"The income of Methodists throughout the country is estimated at 15 billion dollars a year. If they all tithed (gave 10 per cent), our total church giving would be 1½ billion a year. Actually, it is 340 million."

W. Stewart Patterson, long a prominent Methodist layman in Washington, was elected by the conference lay members to lead their delegation to the Methodists' General Conference, or national convention, to be held in Minneapolis next April.

The General Conference is held every four years and Patterson has been a delegate to all the four previous ones since the various branches of the Methodist Church united in 1939.

The annual financial and statistical reports given at the opening business session showed the churches in the conference have 183,428 members, a gain of 4,235 in the past year.

Another 138,216—an estimated half of them duplicates—belong to church schools.

The treasurer's report showed the churches contributed $1,354,844 to Methodist causes in the past year. This does not include money raised and spent for local church operating expenses and buildings.

Woman Dies At 107

NEW YORK, June 2 (AP)—Mrs. Angela Casarella, said by her family to have been 107 years old, died today.

Born in Italy, she had lived alone in her apartment, watched over by solicitous neighbors. A daughter, who visited the apartment every other day, found her mother weak last night and stayed with her.

United States government lands make up about 20 per cent of the total land area of the U. S.

Wheat Growers Quote Congress In Controversy

BALTIMORE, June 2 (AP)—Records of proceedings in Congress in 1938 were introduced today as attorneys for four Maryland farmers sought to prove that lawmakers never intended to permit forcible entry of government inspectors on an American farm.

The hearing before Federal Judge Roszel C. Thomsen entails a government effort to obtain an injunction restraining the Carroll County wheat growers from forbidding agricultural inspectors to set foot on their farms.

The farmers are Louis Shaffer Sr., and his sons, Lindsay B., Joseph and Louis Shaffer.

Wilson K. Barnes, who with Attorneys John Wood and Stanford Hoff represent the farmers, introduced transcripts of congressional records dealing with the Agricultural Adjustment Act.

Shaffer and his sons are opposed to wheat quotas and won't let inspectors on their farm to survey their crop.

Barnes argued that regulations permitting entry of inspectors, if construed to authorize entry without consent of the owners, violates constitutional rights.

He cited congressional records in his argument that lawmakers never intended forcible entry without consent and said proponents of the Agricultural Adjustment Act so argued in discussion on the floors of Congress.

"How then can it be deemed necessary and proper now, 17 years after the act was passed and after it has been satisfactorily enforced for 17 years, that it is for the first time necessary and proper for the purported agents of the Department of Agriculture to enter by force upon the farms?" asked counsel for the defense.

The defense put stress upon alleged procedural irregularities and questioned whether the government inspectors were even appointed validly.

Boy Dies After Fall Through Skylight

BALTIMORE, June 2 (AP) — Wallace Pilsch, 14, died today of injuries he suffered in a 25-foot fall through a skylight on the roof of the Sealy Mattress Co. plant here.

The boy's companions said Wallace was trying to trap pigeons on the roof of the plant in West Baltimore last night. They said he slipped and fell through the skylight to the floor inside the building.

Police and firemen had to force a door to the building to reach the injured boy.

His friends, Robert Buchanan, 17, and Richard Rickels, 25, said young Pilsch shinnied up a drain pipe to the roof of the building at about 9:15 p.m. yesterday.

Trolley Not Vehicle, Magistrate Decides

HYATTSVILLE, Md., June 2 (AP)—A police court magistrate ruled today a streetcar is not a "vehicle under Maryland law." As a result, Magistrate Grover L. Small acquitted a streetcar operator of failing to grant the right-of-way.

The charge grew out of an accident April 17. The streetcar, operated by Earl V. Bishop of Washington, and an auto driven by Mrs. Patricia Mayhew, Greenbelt, collided. She testified the streetcar approached the intersection as though it would stop; then kept on going.

"Much as I dislike to do so," the magistrate said, "the court is obligated to find the defendant not guilty."

Small Seeks Building

BALTIMORE, June 2 (AP)—Frank Small Jr., new commissioner of motor vehicles, is working up proof the department needs a new building.

Small sought to show the State Planning Commission and touring legislators that the building and space around it for driving tests at Guilford and 21st Street is inadequate.

L. Alvin Pasarew, director of the Planning Commission, told Small to submit by July 1 his reasons and how much a new and bigger building would cost.

Small told the visitors that even if the State bought adjacent properties for $600,000, they wouldn't be enough to meet needs.

GUSHER CHASES NEIGHBORS—An estimated 300 trailer park residents at Huntington Beach, Calif., were evacuated from their homes yesterday when this gusher erupted from an oil well. The well spewed gas, water and mud 150 feet into the air, showering the vicinity with slime and rock. Pacific Coast Highway and ocean are in background.

Maryland Crops Need More Rain

COLLEGE PARK, Md., June 2 (AP)—Maryland farm crops were in need of more rain in a survey made last week by the Maryland-Delaware Crop Reporting Service.

Some farmers had to replant their field corn because it was so poor on account of the dry weather, the service said today.

Other crops retarded by the lack of rain included spring oats, soybeans, alfalfa, asparagus, cantaloupes, limas, apples, peaches and strawberries.

Farmers on the southern Eastern Shore are nearly ready to harvest barley, the wheat crop is in full head throughout the state and alfalfa is being cut in Cecil and Harford counties.

Most of the tomatoes and sweet corn have been planted, but considerable cutworm damage is reported among the tomatoes. Wicomico County snap beans will be picked next week. Pea picking has been going on for two weeks on the Eastern Shore along with harvesting of strawberries on the southern peninsula.

Woman's Slaying 20 Years Ago Is Solved

SAN DIEGO, Calif., June 2 (AP)—Wilbert Felix Friend, 44, today confessed he was the moonlight killer of YWCA secretary Ruth Muir 20 years ago.

Friend, unemployed laborer, was arraigned in Municipal Court on a murder complaint issued by Dist. Atty. Don Keller.

He declared: "I plead guilty." He was told no plea could be accepted at an arraignment. A preliminary hearing was set for June 23.

Miss Muir, 48, daughter of a retired San Antonio, Tex. banker, Joseph Muir, was dragged into a gully from an ocean front bench at La Jolla, where she had gone to watch the moonlight on the sea. She was attacked sexually and bludgeoned to death.

SALISBURY, June 2 (AP)—About 44 students will receive diplomas tomorrow at Salisbury State Teachers College.

Dr. Robert Silliman Hillyer, visiting professor of English from the University of Delaware, will speak.

Candidates for diplomas will be presented by Dr. T. J. Carthers, STC director of teacher training, to the college president, Dr. J. D. Blackwell.

Farms Targets For Attack

WASHINGTON, June 2 (AP) — Civil Defense experts are warning farmers, out in the little towns and countryside, that they too can be targets for enemy attack.

An advisory bulletin of the Civil Defense Administration, devoted primarily to discussion of atomic and other forms of air attack on metropolitan areas, carries the note that chemical and germ warfare attacks "may be used against persons, animals or crops."

"The targets for these forms of attack are therefore not limited to the cities, and preparations to combat them should be made in all agricultural regions," it said.

Military officials have warned that crops and livestock can be vulnerable to attack by "exotic biological agents" dropped by planes or planted by saboteurs to produce widespread infection and eventual destruction of food sources.

Maj. Gen. William Creasy, chief chemical officer of the Army, has cautioned that "enemy aircraft or saboteurs could introduce destructive plant diseases and pests into our corn and wheat belts which might be difficult, if not impossible, to bring under control before the year's crop was ruined."

Knotty Problems Face Evacuation Planners At D. C.

WASHINGTON, June 2 (AP)—Officials planning the government's forthcoming evacuation test are wrinkling their brows over some knotty problems—like how to avoid traffic jams and keep stay-at-home wives from getting jealous.

Uncle Sam is going to find out in a couple of weeks just how easy—or how difficult—it will be to get government people out of Washington in the event of an impending atomic attack.

Some 15,000 government workers will head for the hills on June 15 with President Eisenhower in the lead. They'll be gone until June 17 in specially designed secret headquarters in the surrounding countryside—all within 300 miles of Washington.

This, of course, presents some enormous problems—like a fast emptying job of the heavily populated Pentagon Building, which normally houses a small city, 29-000.

Pentagon people said "only a handful" of Defense Department personnel actually will leave town, but the entire complement of the building will head for cars parked in the sprawling parking lots nearby just as if they were taking off.

Perhaps as a precaution against conjugal fears, only male Pentagon workers will leave town. The gal workers will go along to the parking lots and then return to the building when the alert is ended.

It is expected that each member of the Cabinet will go to his own special hideaway. A small "pool" of reporters will go along with the presidential relocation party.

Maryland 4-H Team Seeks World Crown

COLLEGE PARK, June 2 (AP) — Maryland's national 4-H dairy cattle judging championship team will leave the United States next month for a shot at the world crown.

The team—William R. Powell III of Ellicott City, Herbert F. Walbert of Henderson, David L. Brauning of Finksburg, and R. Peery Johnston Jr. of Bel Air—won the national championship in competition with 28 other teams last October at Waterloo, Iowa. It also won a trip to the England for the Royal Agricultural Show where it will take part in an international contest.

W .Va. Liquor Group Sifts Applications

CHARLESTON, W. Va., June 2 (AP)—The Liquor Control Commission sifted through applications today from people who want to sell liquor and wine to the state.

The processing marked a revolutionary departure from the controversial "accounts" which had precipitated political arguments in the past.

Under a new law passed during the regular session of the 1955 Legislature distillery and winery representatives doing business with the state liquor monopoly must obtain a license before they may sell their wares.

Because the Legislature made the effective date June 3, representatives must be licensed for the 27 days left in the current fiscal year, then re-apply almost immediately to renew their licenses for the next fiscal year, which begins July 1.

The fee is $10 for the full fiscal year, and $5 for the remainder of the month.

However, not all persons who have held liquor and wine accounts in the past will be eligible for licensing. The legislation specifically barred members of the Legislature and their wives or husbands, and relatives of any elected or appointed state official.

Educators Tell Harried Parents How To Co-Exist With Teen-Agers

WASHINGTON, June 2 (AP)—Any parent can get along with that rebellious teen-ager in his home, the National Education Assn. reported this week.

All the parent needs, the NEA said, is (1) a shock proof constitution, (2) limitless supplies of patience, (3) an understanding of how adolescents grow, and (4) an ability to roll with the punches.

The association's views were set forth in a booklet called "It's High Time," with the subtitle, "A Guide for Parents of High School Students."

An imposing list of scholars who helped prepare the booklet came up with a conclusion many a parent reached quickly, and without much research, namely:

That being a parent isn't easy.

Still, in a day when the words "juvenile delinquency" are being tossed around like dice in a hot craps game, it's nice to know the NEA experts don't think the cause hopelessly lost.

First, the NEA puts some blunt questions to the parents.

Are you a Nervous Nellie? Do you spend all your time worrying over what may happen to your darling, even if it's something simple, like a tryout for cheerleading?

Are you a bleeding heart? Why must my child spend so much time away from his dear family and home?

Are you a heavy chaperone?

"Wants youngsters to bring friends home, but behaves like a private eye when he does so."

Are you a tab-keeper? "Wants a blow-by-blow account of everything the youngster does with his time. Not above delving into private diaries, school notebooks, personal mail."

Are you a superior being? You know it all, see, and you like to end arguments with "I'm your parent and you'll do as I say."

If you're any, or, possibly, all, of these, you may as well get wise to yourself. Your offspring has, long ago.

As for the youngsters, "High Time" makes a great point of this:

Although he or she may object to conforming with adult standards, he's a slave to the standards of his own crowd.

The booklet quots a girl as saying: "I can't let the crowd down . . . I have to belong. To be different . . . to be left out . . . that's suffering. If it means dungarees, loafers, lipstick, green fingernail polish, ballet slippers, coin bracelets . . . I want them, too. They're the badge of my kind."

Well, it seems unlikely any girl talked like that. But the authors of "High Time" say it's the sort of thinking that is behind many an argument over clothes, curfew time, dating, use of the family car and even home chores.

The NEA suggestion: Discuss all problems at the family circle. Talk it out over the kitchen table. Let everyone have a vote.

Now a parting word not mentioned by the NEA: Be wary of family democracy when there are small ones about. One family that tried this scheme wound up voting, 3-2, to spend the entire family income on jelly beans.

Postal Officials Eye Vet's Crucifix Donation Business

By HERB ALTSCHULL

WASHINGTON, June 2 (AP)—Post Office officials said today they are considering moving against three brothers who are operating a money-making donation business in crucifixes.

"There have been some complaints that the practice is unlawful and annoying," said Chief Postal Inspector David H. Stephens. "We are looking into the matter to see whether the scheme involves violation of postal regulations."

"The whole operation might be perfectly legal," Stephens added. "We don't really know yet. The question is whether the mails are being improperly used in a 'gyp' scheme. If they are, we'll ask the U. S. attorneys to take the matter to court."

Boston's district attorney, Garrett H. Byrne, also has started an investigation of the scheme, which Roman Catholic Archbishop Richard J. Cushing of Boston has called "a religious junk racket."

The principal figure in the crucifix business is Banjamin Kram, 38, Miami, Fla., a former taxi driver who was partially disabled in World War II. He is a bachelor.

The Miami Herald, which first reported the practice earlier this month, described it this way:

Kram and his brothers, Henry and Max, operators of ex-GI Plastics Co., deal in little plastic crucifixes, about three inches in length. The newspaper said they might retail about a nickel each in a novelty shop.

Off in the mail to those names go the crucifixes and specially worded messages carrying a strong religious appeal. Recipients are urged to contribute $1 for a "partially disabled" veteran of World War II.

This "partially disabled" veteran, the paper said, is Banjamin Kram. The exact nature of his disability has not been disclosed but the newspaper said the government fixed the disability at 10 per cent and paid Kram $17 a month as a result.

Kram denied his payment was based on 10 per cent disability, that in fact it was 50 per cent.

Asked about this, the Veterans Administration said he draws the minimum disability payment of $17 a month. "That's 10 per cent," said a VA spokesman.

Mrs. Ivy Baker Priest Is Fined For Speeding

BOUNTIFUL, Utah, June 2 (AP)—U. S. Treasurer Mrs. Ivy Baker Priest arrived home this week with a somewhat blushing face.

She was picked up for speeding near Brady, Neb., while driving here from Washington.

"And is my face red about that speeding ticket," she told newsmen. "You know I'm on the board of directors of the National Safety Council, and to do something like that. . .well, that's bad."

She explained that it was the first time she and her whole family—husband and three teenage children—had been able to come home for two years.

"I took over the wheel as we started through Nebraska," she said, "and I guess I was just a little too anxious. We weren't going too much over the speed limit, but we were exceeding it, I guess, there's no doubt about that."

She said she was given the minimum fine of $14.

FBI Leader Says Use Of Confidential Informants Vital

WASHINGTON, June 2 (AP)—FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said today the use of confidential informants is essential, if the guilty are to be convicted and the innocent cleared.

Hoover spoke out at a time when the government is defending before the Supreme Court its practice of protecting confidential information in reviewing federal employe security cases.

He made no direct reference to this, however, nor to criticism of congressional and other government agencies for using such witnesses as Harvey Matusow, who now says he swore falsely against people accused of Communist links.

Writing in the FBI's monthly bulletin, Hoover said:

"There can be no doubt that the use of informants in law enforcement is justified. The public interest and the personal safety of these helpful citizens demand the zealous protection of their confidence.

"The objective of the investigator must be to ferret out the truth. It is fundamental that the search includes the most logical sources of information —those persons with immediate access to necessary facts who are willing to cooperate in the interest of the common good.

"Their services contribute greatly to the ultimate goal of justice—convicting the guilty and clearing the innocent."

13 New Yorkers Fall Afoul Ancient Talesman System

NEW YORK, June 2 (AP)—Thirteen bewildered New Yorkers fell afoul a very ancient and very honorable legal snare yesterday. Most of them didn't like it a bit, and said so vehemently.

The 13 were collared on the sidewalk outside the U. S. Courthouse at Foley Square and impressed into involuntary servitude as prospective jurors in a narcotics case.

Such prospective jurors selected at random outside a law court are known as talesmen. The system of filling out an exhausted jury panel had its origins in Roman law. It hasn't been used in New York for more than 20 years, although it is common in some parts of the nation.

"What kind of a gag is this?" demanded one irritated gentleman as the U. S. marshal put a hand on his shoulder. "I've got a ticket to sail to Europe tomorrow."

Another innocent bystander type wailed to reporters:

"This is like being kidnaped or shanghaied. It's almost worse than the Army. Before you know it you're on a truck and you're on your way."

Judge Edward J. Dimock directed the rounding up of the talesmen because he ran out of prospects with only 10 jurors sworn. Of the 13 talesmen, two qualified for the vacancies so the trial could proceed.

One talesman protested that he was on his way to the State Income Tax Bureau. Dimock's bailiff phoned the bureau to explain why the man wouldn't be there.

"They can do that?" asked a tax examiner incredulously.

"Come over and walk by the courthouse on your lunch hour and maybe they'll get you, too," invited the bailiff.

On The Line

by Bob Considine

NEW YORK, June 2 (INS) — The fight against cancer has taken many turns. The battlegrounds are a thousand times more numerous than the degrees and types of the next worst of human diseases, ranking only behind the loss of faith. The weapons of this war are endless in scope.

Cancer is being fought by atoms which cannot be seen, particles that cannot be felt, tasted or smelled. The arsenal ranges all the way from an invisible ray to a knife of the substance of steel; from the most precious radium to the essences of cheap garden dirt. On June 7 an estimated 15,000,000 televiewers will see another tool in the cancer war, a mile-long pneumatic tube which will race a suspected bit of human tissue from an operating room at Walter Reed Hospital in Washington, D. C., to the Armed Forces Institute of Pathology for examination.

Pathologists will examine the sample with a "television microscope," jot down a report, feed it into the tube, and shoot it back to waiting surgeons. For the first time the gap between the knife and the report of the pathologist will be narrowed.

It's all a part of the 104th annual meeting of the American Medical Association, to be held at Atlantic City. It should mark another stride in the battle. If it achieves no more than acquainting more people with the cancer problem, the need of regular check-ups and continued research, it will more than have served it purpose.

Dr. J. E. Schmidt, of Charlestown, Ind., sends me a few new terms for old fears, from his larger work "Our Growing Fears" —

Lipsisophobia — fear of leaving, as one's home. Lygophobia — fear of dark places. Kynophobia — fear of dogs; ailurophobia — fear of cats. Primusophobia — fear of arriving first, as at a party. Mageiricophobia (very common) — fear of having to cook food. Iatrophobia — fear of doctors.

Pondocrescophobia — fear of gaining excessive weight. Nucleomitotophobia — fear of being attacked by atomic bombs. Rhinonitidophobia — fear of having a shiny nose. Hidrosiphobia — fear of offending by perspiration. Manoquatiphobia — fear of having to shake hands. Stilfalsetophobia — fear of dripping faucets. And what must be the all-time favorite of the leather couch owners, phobophobia — fear of fear.

Ten years after the agonized birth of the atomic bomb, the laboratory in which it went through its final periods of gestation will be opened to the press, radio and TV. At least for a couple of days.

Invitations have gone out from the Los Alamos (N.Mex.) scientific laboratory, a part of the University of California, to "various old friends" of the project. It was on July 16, 1945, that human beings first saw the blinding flash and mushroom cloud that soon ended a vast war in the Pacific and shortly thereafter became a menacing sword over the world.

Do you read the sports pages? Of course, you do. Y.

Nominations for the first Grantland Rice memorial award of the brotherhood must be made before July 13, anniversary of death of the grandest gentleman I ever met. You could be instrumental in making your favorite sportswriter more or less immortal.

Priest In Chicago Offers Catholic Workers Way To Perfection In Life Through Opus Dei

By JAN HARTNETT
(For George Cornell)

CHICAGO, June 2 (AP)—A priest on Chicago's South Side is offering Roman Catholic workers of all ranks in America a way to perfection in life through the Opus Dei—the Work of God.

He is Father Joseph L. Muzquiz, 42, now an American citizen, who formerly taught civil engineering in Spain until he joined the Opus Dei movement there in 1929 and later became a priest.

Father Muzquiz described the Opus Dei as a secular institute "made up of lay people who, without being 'religious,' have devoted themselves to the work of the apostolate and to the task of carrying on a life of perfection in the world.

"The members, men and women," he said, "seek sanctity in their ordinary, everyday work and nothing extraordinary is expected of them. The idea is to live lives like those of the early Christians who changed the pagan Roman Empire into a Christian one. It was a pagan world then; it is a world threatened by communism now."

Father Muzquiz said the Opus Dei was founded by Msgr. Joseph Escriva de Balaguer, also a one-time engineer, when he was 26. Msgr. Escriva called Muzquiz to the priesthood after he had joined the institute.

The Opus Dei has spread to 30 nations, including England, Ireland, France, Germany, the United States, Mexico, Africa and most of South America. As president general, Msgr. Escriva, now 53, directs the worldwide operation from headquarters in Rome.

An unimposing three-story building on a shaded street near the University of Chicago is the U.S. headquarters of Father Muzquiz, superior of the American branch.

Father Muzquiz, a tall, scholarly looking man, explained:

"Our Opus Dei Institute operates the Trimount House for men in Boston, which draws student and faculty members from Harvard, Boston University, Boston College, MIT and Tufts Medical School. We also have a residence for women in Boston, another one here for women and our own headquarters and mens' residence in Chicago at 5544 Woodlawn Ave.

"We hope to open another institute residence soon in Madison, Wis., near the university's campus, and we are looking forward to the early establishment of residences in North Carolina, Washington, D.C., and St. Louis."

"Our members are persons from all walks of life, especially those in the professions who can exert a great influence on society. These persons continue to lead their normal life without wearing any religious garb. But they consecrate themselves to God by private vows of poverty, chastity and obedience. In our ranks are students, artists, engineers, teachers, doctors, tradesmen, lawyers, farmers and salesmen. Every year from 70 to 80 priests are ordained to serve the spiritual needs of the Opus Dei members. There are more than 200 Opus Dei houses all over the world today."

One Chicago lay member, about 30, wearing a purple sports shirt, blue slacks and tan shoes, discussed the institute's work. He is a physics teacher at a Chicago college.

"We do not follow a set program," he said, "but the way in which we apply the Opus Dei ideals is left to the individual. By belonging to Opus Dei we give one another support and encouragement and have at hand spiritual benefits we would not have if we were alone.

"Our objective is union with God. We don't try to fit a special schedule, but try to bring God into the schedule of our work. Members follow a program of spiritual exercises adapted to their needs."

Father Muzquiz brought the Opus Dei movement to the United States in 1949. He said he could not estimate the number of members in this country "because there are thousands of these dedicated persons who take their vows in private."

These persons, Father Muzquiz explained, do not live at institute residences. Some live with their parents, or in houses and apartments.

"A member of Opus Dei works at a profession with others," Father Muzquiz said. "He prefers to be respected for his individual worth and not because of association with some outside group, however worthy. He does not make himself known to his coworkers except where such a disclosure is advisable in particular cases."

Father Muzquiz outlined the apostolic activities of the Opus Dei members as follows:

1. The sanctification of professional work, by setting a living, practical and constant example as befitting a full Christian life.

2. The spreading of Catholic doctrine and culture.

3. The perfect and exemplary fulfilment of the civil or political offices that may be entrusted to them by competent authority or public elections.

4. The steady and perservering cooperation with the work of religious, scientific and professional education carried on in colleges and universities.

Ft. Meade MP "Cop Of Week"

BALTIMORE, June 2 (AP) — A military policeman stationed at Ft. Meade has been selected as Maryland "Cop of the Week" for being courteous and helpful to a motorist from Miami Beach, Fla.

Sgt. William Wallace of Brooklyn, N.Y., assigned to the 526th Military Police Co. at Ft. Meade, was chosen for the honor on the basis of a letter from Mrs. Mary Ann Banks of Miami Beach. She commented on Sgt. Wallace's courtesy and helpfulness in assisting her to drive to Point Lookout, Md.

Wallace will be guest of the Maryland Travel Council for a weekend in Faulkner Charles County, where he will stay on his honeymoon with his new bride.

He also is eligible for the "Cop of the Year" prize which includes a week's vacation for two anywhere in Maryland, a Maryland frying chicken every week for a year, a Garrett County Thanksgiving and Christmas turkey and the use of a private box for a day of racing at Pimlico.

Apathy Of Home Builders Toward Bomb Shelters Causing Concern

WASHINGTON, June 2 (AP)—Some 4,200 homes were completed in this country today, and probably not five of them had their own built-in bomb shelters.

This is cause for concern to the Civil Defense Administration, to President Eisenhower and to David Scull, a Washington contractor.

The Civil Defense people have been arguing, without much success, that no home is complete without a bomb shelter.

One official put it this way: "If they dropped a bomb on our cities tomorrow, 95 per cent of us would get it. But if we all had shelters, at least 65 per cent could be saved."

Only Tuesday, Eisenhower, without specifically mentioning bomb shelters, said he hopes for a "speed-up in the enthusiasm of the average citizen to do his part" in civil defense. "I must reiterate," he said, "that civil defense is largely a job that falls on each of ourselves."

Scull is trying to do the job. He builds the things, and so far the demand for shelters hasn't been overwhelming.

Well, why all the apathy?

Scull probably has as good an answer as any. "Most people," he said, "simply don't want to think about the thing." That is, the big bomb.

Still, Scull, a World War II veteran, got to thinking about the thing. And so he built himself a shelter in his own basement. As a contractor, he decided there might be a profit in building shelters for others.

The score so far: One built, two on order.

Scull isn't too depressed about it, though. He points out that it takes time to figure costs so that a contractor can name a price on any prospective bomb shelter. And it takes time, too, to get lending agencies in the mood to advance money for such projects.

The present cost: Around $700.

If you're a do-it-yourself fiend, maybe you want to put together your own bomb shelter. If so, send 35 cents to the Superintendent of Documents, U. S. Government Printing Office, Washington 25 D. C. Ask for Civil Defense Manual TM 5-5, "Home Shelters for Family Protection in an Atomic Attack."

Incidentally, the National Assn. of Home Builders believes Houston, Tex., may be the home bomb shelter capital of the world.

Builders there have been pushing the shelter idea, and on June 15 the day Eisenhower goes to his private hideout for a two-day stay, a Houston family will move into a bomb shelter for a three-day stay. That's the time it may take for the harmful effects of radioactivity to wear off.

In this connection, the Civil Defense people have been hit by this query:

"How can I keep my kids down there for three days when I can't keep them in the house for one hour on a rainy day?"

So far, no one has come up with an answer.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

So many more women would charm the world around them — if they would only tell the truth about themselves.

Voices and ways of speaking can be very misleading. A young girl sounds boisterous when she's really covering up shyness. A business woman booms like a tyrant—only because she's always so hurried. A busy mother develops nagging, complaining tones that never quite leave her voice, even on social occasions. A rather positive person's voice is thin and anything but impressive.

No one ever knows exactly what he sounds like—he can't hear his own voice as others hear it. But that doesn't mean you can't find out quite a bit about your voice (send 10c in coin and self-addressed, stamped envelope for my booklet "Your Most Attractive Voice"). Meanwhile, try asking yourself these questions:

1. Do others always seem set to resist when you make a request? This negative response is a reaction to brusqueness, too positive tones, or nagging.

2. Is it difficult for you to gain the attention of a group? Perhaps you need to turn up your volume, not too loud, but enough to round out thin tones.

3. Do people sometimes say to you, "Will you repeat that, more slowly?", "Not so loud", or "I don't hear you"? These are plainly warnings.

4. Have you ever been accused of sounding bossy, bored or tired when you don't feel that way?

Tomorrow — Don't throw away vitamins!

County Agent Offers Advice On Producing Better Tomato

If you are interested in producing a better tomato crop this year, then it is a good idea to heed the advice given by the Extension Service of the College of Agriculture of the University of Maryland.

Joseph M. Steger, Allegany County agent, yesterday said that an article has been written by Andrew A. Duncan of the Department of Horticulture, on the production of tomatoes and the best way to assure a bumper crop.

Most home gardeners prefer to tie their tomato plants to stakes or to trellis them in such a way that they conserve space in the garden and keep vines and tomatoes up off the ground.

Tests carried on over the past four years have shown that plants trellised in a special way will bear heavily until frost. In some cases a single plant produced as much as 62 pounds of tomatoes and 25 plants produced more than three-fourths of a ton of fruit.

Basically, the new trellising method amounts to keeping each plant inside a wire cylinder two feet across and five feet tall. The result is a column of vine growth held in place and supported by a wire cylinder.

Wire with six inch mesh is best because it makes it easy to reach in and pick the tomatoes. Concrete reinforcing wire is ideal because it is rigid enough to be self supporting.

A few stakes around the cylinders, according to Duncan, will keep them from being blown over. Prepare the ground by digging in some organic matter, (peat moss or compost) along with two pounds of 5-10-10 fertilizer to 100 square feet. Make the bed for the plants at least five feet wide.

Other advice by Duncan is to water plants requently during the early par. of the season and late in the season water only during dry spells.

Billmeyer Is Promoted By WM Railway

The promotion of E. D. Billmeyer to bridge and structural engineer with the Western Maryland Railway with offices in Baltimore was announced yesterday by railway officials.

A native of Cumberland, he is a graduate of Tri-State College of Engineering, Angola, Ind., and from June 1, 1949 was assistant division engineer here. In 1951 he was promoted to division engineer.

Billmeyer has been associated with the railway for 19 years, serving five years in Hagerstown and eight years in Baltimore before coming to Cumberland. Prior to joining the railway he worked for the Hazelwood Construction Company and the State Roads Commission.

He will move to Baltimore about the middle of June. His family includes his wife, a daughter, Jane, 15, a student at Allegany High School, and a son, Daniel, 10, a pupil at West Side School.

Billmeyer succeeds R. R. Gunderson in his new position.

Succeeding Billmeyer here is Robert B. Wooters, 33, a native of Clarksburg, W. Va. At an early age he moved to New York City with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. Bates Wooters.

He graduated from New York University in 1943 with a degree in geology and served three and one-half years with the infantry and engineers in World War II. He held the rank of first lieutenant. During the Korean conflict he was recalled from the reserve and came out of service with the rank of captain.

After World War II he entered West Virginia University where he received his B.S. and M.A. degrees in civil engineering. For two years he taught civil engineering at the university. Later he was assistant chief engineer for the Barnes-Dawson Coal Company in Clarksburg. For the past three years he has been a member of the chief engineers staff of the WM in Baltimore.

Wooters is married to the former Miss Agnes Bell of New York City and they have two daughters, Carol, 11, and Wendy, 7. The family will move here from Baltimore as soon as housing is obtained.

NEW WM OFFICIAL—Robert B. Wooters, 33, has assumed his new duties as division engineer here with the Western Maryland Railway. He came here from Baltimore where he served three years in the chief engineer's office.

Miss Clara Boettner and Mrs. Pauline Winters will accompany the group.

The buses will stop in Flintstone to pick up other young people who plan to attend the session.

Activities will include an address by Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam, resident bishop of the Washington district and presiding officer of the Baltimore Conference. Additional information may be secured by telephoning 1878-M.

Local Student Wins Law Scholarship

Ronald O. Decker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ross O. Decker, 514 Cumberland Street, will receive a bachelor of arts degree Monday at the commencement exercises of Swarthmore College at Swarthmore, Pa.

He has received a three-year scholarship to the University of Chicago Law School after having been selected by the faculty for the scholarship which is available once in three years.

Attending the ceremonies Monday will be the Deckers and their daughter, Ann.

Election Is Planned By "Y" Rec Club

The Central YMCA Rec Club will elect officers for 1955-56 Friday, June 10, during the weekly dance program, Judy Cooper, president of the club council, announced yesterday.

The club's June program will open this evening with a "Records Dance" in the Youth Lobby. Due to the Rotary Club's Sample Fair at the "Y," June 15, 16 and 17, the club will hold another "Records Dance" in the Youth Lobby on June 18.

The council will discuss plans at a meeting Thursday, June 9, at 7:30 p. m. at the "Y" for a mothers' banquet and also for a twelfth anniversary program in October.

New members will be inducted Friday, June 24, during the weekly dance.

Keegan Says Auto Wrecks Are Due To "Slow" Roads

Police and Fire Commissioner William V. Keegan said Tuesday there will be automobile wrecks as long as cars are designed to go 120 miles an hour on roads built for 50 miles-an-hour speeds.

Keegan spoke out after it was suggested that a letter on a "slow down and live" campaign be referred to him.

"You can refer it to me if you want to," the commissioner said, adding that "the Police Department is doing all it can to control speeders." He said the department is conducting a campaign through the schools, "but when they build cars to go 120 miles an hour on roads built for 50 miles an hour, we will have wrecks."

"People cause wrecks," the commissioner added.

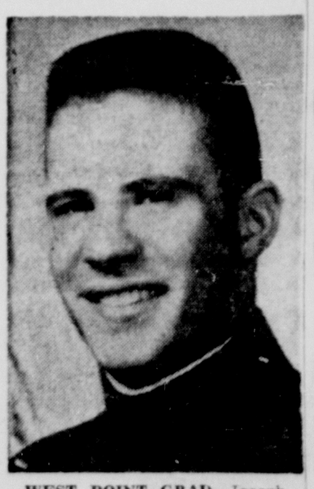
The Western Maryland Women's Traffic Safety organization asked for a proclamation on the upcoming "Slow Down and Live" campaign to save life and limb on the highways. The proclamation will be issued later by Mayor Roy Eves.

Wage Boost Given To ABL Employes

A three per cent wage increase has been agreed on for hourly-paid personnel at the Allegany Ballistics Laboratory following a series of negotiations between Local 261, International Chemical Workers Union (AFL), and representatives of the Hercules Powder Company.

The increase, awaiting final approval by the Navy, will be effective as of May 23 and averages to approximately six cents per hour. Company officials said all employes will be granted the raise, as has been customary in past years.

Participating in the negotiations for the union were John Markley, Joseph Shirley, John Reed, Irvin Allen and George Scott; for the company, O. B. Case and R. E. Good, and for the Navy, William L. Blundin.



WEST POINT GRAD—Joseph P. Franklin, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. William Bibby, 11 Prospect Square, will be graduated Tuesday from the U. S. Military Academy at West Point. He will receive a bachelor of science degree and be commissioned a second lieutenant in the Engineer Corps. Cadet Franklin received his appointment to West Point through Senator J. Glenn Beall.

B&O Telegrapher Retires After 53 Years Service

After 53 years service with the B&O Railroad as a telegrapher, Charles Howard Furtney, 202 Saratoga Street, has retired.

A native of Shenandoah Junction, W. Va., he entered the service of the B&O on April 12, 1902. His first work was at Orleans Road as an extra telegrapher. Later on he worked at Miller, Cherry Run and Martinsburg.

On November 16, 1916 he came here with the B&O and outside of 10 years service in the B&O tower at the viaduct near Knox Street, has been in the WC Relay office.

During his long career in the important communications phase of railroading he has seen many improvements. For many years telegraphers punched out messages with a key using the Morse code. Incoming messages were received and transcribed by the telegrapher.

At the WC Relay office here the equipment shows the advances made in communications by the railroad. No longer is the telegrapher key the only link with other railroad points. Today there are two rows of teletype machines on which hundreds of messages a day are transmitted.

An interesting sidelight on Mr. Furtney's railroad career is that a member of the Furtney family has been an employe of the B&O since 1861. This included his father, who was a car foreman. A cousin is a conductor with the B&O in the Connellsville section. A number of uncles, a brother and others down through the years have all been B&O employes.

Furtney is married to the former Miss Esther M. Shirley and they have a son, C. S. Furtney, an industrial engineer with the Jones and Laughlin Steel Company in Pittsburgh.

Mr. Furtney, who is very young looking for his age, plans to indulge in some of his hobbies such as flower gardening, stamp collecting and work with Indian relics. Traveling is also included in his plans.

WM Wreck Near Elkins Is Cleared

The wreckage of 10 loaded coal cars and a caboose on a branch line of the Western Maryland Railway at Walnut, west of Elkins in the Greenbrier - Cheat - Elk coal area, was cleaned up Wednesday at 7 p. m.

The cars derailed Tuesday at 10 p. m. and railway officials believe a broken rail caused the wreck. No one was injured in the mishap.

In South Africa, corn is called "mealies."

Local 26 Planning Installation Saturday

The newly-elected officers of Local 26, United Rubber Workers of America (CIO), will be installed in ceremonies tomorrow at 7:30 p. m. at the URWA Hall on North Mechanic Street.

The new president is James W. Stein, 216 Knox Street. He defeated William G. Rice, who was seeking a fourth straight term of office. A. E. Johnson is the new vice president, Joseph W. Burke, secretary, and Clyde E. O'Baker, policy committee member, along with the president.

Local 26 officials said an international representative of the URWA is expected here to install the officers.

Court Clerk Fees Increase

For the first time in half a century the various fees in the office of Clerk of Court Joseph E. Boden have been increased.

Boden has received a letter from State Comptroller J. Millard Tawes saying that most fees are boosted 50 per cent effective Wednesday. The increased fee charges resulted from legislation passed by the General Assembly at its recent session.

Under the new system, a person filing a divorce petition will have to pay a fee of $10 to the clerk of court. The old fee was $7.50. An adoption petition which formerly cost $5 will now be $7.50.

Recording to deeds, mortgages, chattel mortgages, conditional sales agreements and judgments will also cost more.

The law also specifies that the minimum fee will be 50 cents. There had been a few fees at 50 cents.

Six Selectees Report For Induction June 16

Cumberland draft boards will send six registrants to Fairmont (W.Va.) June 16 for induction into the armed forces.

P. Emmett Fahey, clerk coordinator, said Board 27 will dispatch two, Board 28, one, and Board 29, three.

The group will report at 7:15 a. m. in Selective Service headquarters in the Post Office building for final instructions and leave via Blue Ridge bus at 7:50.

Disabled Person's SS Earnings "Frozen"

Seriously disabled people who used to work in employment or self-employment covered by the social security law should get in touch with the social security office by June 30 and find out about having their earnings record "frozen," James E. Robertson social security district manager, announces.

Robertson believes that many people in Cumberland and the surrounding area will be helped by the disability freeze provision in the 1954 social security amendments. This part of the law is designed to aid workers who become totally disabled after having worked for a certain number of years in employment or self-employment covered by social security. It provides that their social security rights will not decrease during the period of disability.

Many disabled people now getting retirement payments, Robertson pointed out, can qualify under this provision for a larger benefit amount as of July. If the disabled person dies after June 30, the disability can protect his family's right to survivors payments, but only if he had applied for it before his death.

Active military service in the World War II and post-war periods and employment in the railroad industry may count toward the needed amount of work.

Although the law does not provide for the payment of cash social security retirement benefits before the worker reaches 65, it is nevertheless important that a disabled individual get in touch promptly with the Social Security Administration and establish the fact of his disability.

Active military service after September 15, 1940 and before July 1, 1955, and work in the railroad industry can be counted toward the required period of work. The law applies to people who were disabled before reaching 65 no matter how old they are now, Robertson said.

The address of the Cumberland social security office is 328 Post Office Building. If a disabled worker is unable to call at the office, some other member of his family should inquire for him.

Residents Oppose Beer License On Christie Road

Twenty-two residents of the Christie Road area yesterday submitted a petition to the Allegany County Board of Alcoholic Beverages License Commissioners yesterday protesting the proposed issuance of a Class D beer license to Virginia L. Haller on premises owned by Thomas J. and Blanche Malamphy on Christie Road.

Miss Haller formerly held a beer and wine license in premises at 344 Baltimore Avenue. The place where she now seeks a license was operated the past several years as Club 88 by a group of Negro residents of Cumberland. They were denied an alcholic beverage license.

In their petition, the area residents said that there already are two establishments in the vicinity licensed for the sale of alcoholic beverages. They also contend that residents of the section have no police protection to curb speeding, rowdyism and drunken driving. Furthermore, the road is narrow and rather dangerous in places.

Finally, the petitioners note that in 1953 Club 88, composed of Negro people, was denied a license for the same premises under circumstances that they say have not changed. The residents feel that to deny one a license and grant one to another would be showing racial discrimination.

Signers of the remonstrance are Robert L. Horstman, Leona F. Horstman, M. E. Imes, Lee R. Alexander, Mrs. D. D. Kauffman, Christine K. Alexander, Gardner L. Wentling, Viola E. Wentling, R. Eugene Street, Goldie M. Street, Edith A. Riggleman, Otis F. Riggleman, Ledie I. Brinkman, Shirley Lou Brinkman, Thomas J. Wotring, Genevieve Wotring, Howard V. Brode, Clarence B. The big sports award, a wrist watch donated by George F. Hazelwood, went to Gerald Landis as the male student considered the best all-around athlete at Fort Hill. The senior high school students designate the winner with the approval of the faculty.

Other prize winners were Norma Ballou, $5 Sabre staff award; Carol O'Donnell, $5 homemaking department prize; Frances Ann Adams, $25 cash prize, offered by Daniel Y. City Has 14,820 Registered Voters

Registered voters in the City of Cumberland decreased by 20 last month, leaving 14,820 qualified voters on the books on May 31.

Most of the decrease was caused by the removal from voting records of citizens who died during the month.

Stricken from the books were the names of 21 known dead.

Added were two new voters, both women.

Removed from the voting books was the name of one man who moved outside the city limits

Only one voter asked the office to make a change in his registration records.

Listed as qualified to vote in city elections were:

White male, 7,765; white female, 6,754; colored male, 192, and colored female, 109, for a total of 14,820.

Month Of May Was Dry, Warm

The month of May was warmer and drier than it should have been, based upon averages compiled over a quarter of a century period. But not very much so.

According to Ewell H. Mohler Jr., engineer in charge of the Geological Survey office here, the daily average for the month, measured at the Wiley Ford gauge, was 846 cubic feet per second which is equivalent to 547 million gallons per day. This is 51.3 per cent of the 25-year May average recorded here. The daily flow varied between 1,760 cubic feet per second or 1,138 million gallons per day on May 15, to 422 cfs or 273 mgd. on May 31.

Seasonal storage in the Savage River Reservoir caused an average decrease in the daily flow of 22 cfs (14.2 mgd) or 2.6 per cent of the flow in the North Branch at Cumberland. The reservoir filled on May 6.

Total precipitation at Cumberland, as reported by the Weather Bureau, was 3.36 inches, or 0.03 inches below the May average. The average daily temperature was 64.7 degrees, which was 1.7 degrees above normal.

Local, Area GOC Posts Inspected

Bradley Nash, an assistant to the Secretary of the U.S. Air Force, was in Cumberland and the immediate area Wednesday night on an inspection tour of the Ground Observer Corps posts.

Among those taking the tour were William G. Barger, Allegany County Civil Defense director; Sgt. Frank Carbone, of the Air Force, who has been organizing posts throughout the area; William Deremer, assistant GOC coordinator for the county, and Graydon Dunlap, chief observer of the Cumberland GOC Post on Hill Top Drive.

A large billboard at the corner of Williams Street and Maryland Avenue is publicizing the Ground Observers and urging residents to join GOC activities.

Pictured on the billboard are two men with field glasses and a telephone, two main instruments in the observers' vigil against possible attack.

Nash was well impressed by his visit here. After leaving Cumberland the group went to Romney to inspect the GOC post there. The visit here by Nash was part of an official tour of this section of the East.

GOC posts are located here in Cumberland, at Frostburg, Cresaptown, Bedford Road, Pinto and Romney.

Area Mishap Pictures In May Police Bulletin

In the May issue of the Maryland State Police Highway Safety Bulletin are two accident pictures which were taken by Trooper J. V. Stakem, who investigated the mishap which occurred on Route 36.

A Peoples Transit bus from Frostburg and a passenger car were involved in the crash, which occurred about a month ago. A Lonaconing woman, driver of the car, was reported injured in the crash and treated by a physician.

According to the article in the bulletin the "pictures of the month" were taken with a 620 Brownie Flash Camera and "indicate that Trooper Stakem has a good working knowledge of this piece of departmental equipment," and "will also give the court a good idea as to what happened as well as the type of highway at that location."

Help For The Blind With Electronics

An intriguing device to lead the blind has been invented by two Kansas men, one of whom is himself blind. M. A. McCollum of Topeka, who for 33 years has been feeling his way with the tip of a cane, envisioned utilizing electronics to help the sightless find their way. Now his dream has come true.

In collaboration with a fellow ham radio operator, Ed Sexton, McCollum has developed a four-pound radio wave emitting device. Earphones pick up the deflection of the waves off objects. With experience, a person is able to tell whether the object is a stairway, a post or a wall.

As a sort of test run, the inventor walked through a busy railroad station in Kansas City and boarded a train for Topeka. Commenting on his trip afterwards, he said, "It's just like learning to walk all over."

From the time he lost his sight in a bicycle accident as a youngster, McCollum has been interested in radio. He became so proficient in his knowledge of radio that at 20 years of age he opened station KGNO in Dodge City. The station is still operating, although he sold it some time ago.

Not entirely at ease with his new "seeing eye," McCollum explains, "after feeling my way for years with a cane tip, it's a devastating experience to walk three blocks without ever touching ground with the cane." The strangeness of the device will wear off in time and it is easy to imagine that the two Kansans are mighty proud of their handiwork.

With the cost of all the parts in the electronic eye coming to only $35, McCollum and Sexton may find themselves swamped with orders from other handicapped people. A group of Topeka businessmen has set up an organization called SITE (Sight Improvement Through Electronics) and has pledged to back them in their enterprises.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

Khrushchev

Unnecessary surprise was expressed when Nikita Khrushchev took the lead of the Soviet delegation to Yugoslavia. That lead is his by right. He is the top man of the Soviet Universal State and therefore is superior in rank and authority to Premier Nikolai Bulganin.

The conference with Tito involved not only state matters but the very nature of international Communist authority. Again that is a matter for Nikita Khrushchev not for Marshal Bulganin. After 38 years that should not have been misunderstood. Khrushchev is the successor to Lenin and Stalin. Only a comparatively few days after Stalin died, this was made clear by the division of authority between party and government, when Malenkov was removed from the secretaryship of the party and was limited to authority in the state. Then Beria was killed, Malenkov reduced to nothing and Molotov turned into an elder statesman. Thus Khrushchev destroyed the triumvirate which came into power after Stalin's death.

Most people think of other governments in terms of their own. I was never more conscious of that than on my recent trip to England where I found men of great intelligence who had no better understanding of the American form of government than they had of the Russian. They could not avoid translating every question into British terms and traditions. For instance, the peculiar relations between the President and Congress are very hard for them to grasp. It is the same with most of us; we fall into a natural habit of seeing the world in our image.

It is no wonder, then, that the Russian system, particularly the relations of party to state, is so confusing to Westerners. In any Soviet country the party is supreme; the state is held in tutelage by the party. Whoever controls the party is master of the state. To him, all public officials are subordinate and he can remove them as Khrushchev removed Beria and Malenkov.

It is of value to the United States that the Yugoslavian event should have occurred. In dealing with Tito, the Russians could not try tricks because he had once been one of them and he is familiar with their methods and their chain of command. Had Khruschev not come to the conference, Tito would have known that the Russians were toying with him and there would have been no conference. He could not have accepted Bulganin as the head of the Russian state because he is not head of the party.

The Four Power Conference, which will now probably be held, should consist of the President of the United States, the prime minister of Great Britain, the premier of France, and the secretary of the Russion Communist party. Instead of sending Khrushchev, the Russians plan to send Bulganin. They did not dare do that to Tito, but they assume that the West takes titles seriously and that a premier sounds more official and more important than a secretary. They forget that Stalin made the title of secretary supreme.

Therefore, the West ought to insist that Khrushchev be present at the Four Power Conference if it is to be a meeting of equals.

The questions to be discussed at this conference are peace, disarmament, atomic weapons, the relations of Red China to the remainder of the world. After 10 years, the world wants peace on some basis. Obviously whatever the United Nations can do, it cannot make or maintain peace. That will have to be the work of a special conference or we shall continue to have a cold war with sporadic and limited shooting wars like the ones in Korea and in Indochina.

At any rate, we have reached the moment when conversations on major issues are possible. This conference ought to be formal; it ought to have an agenda; it ought to have some kind of minute. Perhaps at its termination, a treaty might be submitted for ratification. If peace does not come after this Four Power Conference, there can be little hope for peace in our times.

The question will be what will the Soviet Universal State demand. At that conference, Russia will not only represent itself, but all the Communist countries, including Red China. The demands may be more than can be met. And the West needs to make one big demand and that is that the Marxists cease their work of penetration into other countries.

Don't Mistake The Forest For The Trees

Four Power Conference Is Challenge To Eisenhower

By David Lawrence

LONDON—Selection of a place to hold the Four Power conference can have an important bearing on the success or failure of the meeting itself. For this reason, a conference held in Canada—either at Quebec or Vancouver—offers the best opportunity for continuous endeavors.

If the conference were held in Switzerland, President Eisenhower would be able to attend only for the first few days and could not be expected to return at frequent intervals, if at all. But if the conference is held in Canada, he could participate whenever the session showed promise of reaching an important accord. This is on the assumption that a meeting "at the summit" is really intended to develop agreements at the top level.

But if the principal work is to be done by the foreign ministers afterward and the heads of the governments are merely to contribute the window dressing, then a meeting in a European city would probably be the most dramatic setting for a show.

Speech Would Be Effective

It is certain that, if the President goes to Switzerland for the Four Power meeting, he will be invited to visit both Great Britain and France. From the American viewpoint — that is, considering the necessity of outlining the policies of the United States in world affairs—a speech delivered by Mr. Eisenhower in England and another in France could have a powerful effect on public opinion throughout Europe, where it is most needed.

Unfortunately, adresses by the President of the United States, when delivered in America, are rarely cabled in full text and, because of the faraway psychology, most newspapers print only brief extracts. The chances are that, if President Eisenhower spoke in Europe, his addresses would do more good than a whole year's output of American comments from sources of lesser importance.

A visit to Great Britain just in advance of the meeting of the Four Power conference would enable President Eisenhower to outline the aims and objectives of the United States in world affairs in much the same way that President Wilson did before the Versailles conference after the close of World War One. The opportunities for an expression of the moral force of the American nation come all too rarely to an American president. Mr. Wilson's only mistake was that, after a few adresses, he never sought to influence world opinion in behalf of his ideals but succumbed to the pressures of a small conference at which the atmosphere of secret bargaining and trading deprived him of the leverage he had on world opinion.

Should President Eisenhower come to Britain, he probably will be welcomed as no American chief executive has ever been before. He would be seen and heard over television and radio, respectively, by audiences numbering in the millions. Also this is familiar ground to Mr. Eisenhower because, as a general of the Army, he launched from this country the historic invasion of the Normandy coast in 1944. His presence would bring back memories of the victory insured for Britain and the liberation achieved for France. It might also remind the peoples behind the iron curtain, including those of the Soviet Union, that it was the solidarity of the wartime alliance which made possible the defeat of the common enemy.

Biggest Welcome Likely

There are, in fact, so many implications of possible benefit all around if Mr. Eisenhower decides to go to the countries whose top leaders are to participate with him in the conference "at the summit" that it would appear certain President Eisenhower will accept the invitations that are bound to be extended to him.

There is always the problem of not offending the other countries whose heads of state would also invite the President—for example, West Germany and Italy. It is also conceivable that some of the strategists in the Soviet Union might see the advantage of extending an invitation, too. But Mr. Eisenhower would be able to accept only those requests which came from Great Britain and France because the work in preparation for the Four Power conference must primarily be undertaken with the heads of those two countries. There would be no time for extended visits.

If Mr. Eisenhower came to London and Paris, he would in a sense be helping to prepare for the work of the big conference itself. For he would be meeting with the leaders in those countries and his main objective would be to cement the Western Alliance in advance of the Four Power meeting.

Whether the conference itself reaches agreements of practical value, there is no doubt that the occasion will provide an opportunity for a restatement of ideals and for the crystallization of a common viewpoint in the worldwide crusade for peace. The Four Power conference may find its Western sponsors with a stronger influence than they expected to wield—which, indeed, can happen if the moral values inherent in the Western position are profoundly and unequivocally expressed. This presents a challenge particularly to the President of the United States.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

Winsome Churchill is now swinging his cigars inland. Something he couldn't do with the big guns at Singapore.

The reformed prime minister is looking at the future through rose-colored eye-balls.

He sees the dove of peace flying from its Kremlin cote with a message of love to one and all.

English history states the young pretender lived long enough to be called the old pretender. It's happened again.

Sir Winnicker is doing a neat upholstering job on the iron curtain. He hemstitches a lovely fringe.

But it was Churchill who named it the iron curtain. What a job Winsome would have done whipping up monnickers for our Pullman sleepers.

Now he's trying to tell us there's a sleeper in the Soviet who swings more weight than a dancing elephant. That could be Marshal Zhukov who thinks the East and the West can exist one at a time.

Winnie figures there have been switches in the Kremlin in the last two seasons. Probably a new boy filling the ink wells.

If he wants a fight in America we can fix Winnie up with Senator Knowland. Who doesn't trust the Kremlin any further than you can swing a bob-tailed cat.

If Winnie has a pipeline into the Kremlin he'd better turn it off. It's running hot and cold.

On the other cuff, don't sell any of Sir Winnicker's predictions short. He's guessed right more times than a fellow shaking dice in a hat.

Voice Loss May Be Due To Hysteria Of Mental Shock

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Total or partial loss of voice (aphonia) may be a hysterical phenomenon due to mental shock and often takes weeks or months to develop. The victim of this derangement drifts from reality into disease.

A woman of 42 was studied in one of our clinics. Poorly nourished, she obviously was struggling for a livelihood. Thorough examination of the voice box showed no abnormality and a diagnosis of hysteria was made. The lady resisted efforts to probe beneath the surface of her daily life to uncover the cause of her trouble.

It was finally decided to place her under an anesthetic. During the excitement stage, she talked and sang in a loud voice whereupon the anesthetic was discontinued. Emerging from the dream state she heard the reverberations of her chatter and, on recovering consciousness, burst into tears and revealed her conflict.

A drunken husband had so worn upon her nervous reserve, she could stand it no longer. Her retreat into aphonia made her mate more attentive and her loss of voice continued because it meant greater kindness from him. The physician interviewed the husband, who responded manfully by taking the pledge. The wife has not had a relapse.

A young school teacher came to the nose and throat department of a hospital complaining that she could not utter an audible sound in the classroom. Again, the larynx was in good condition and this patient was persuaded to discuss her problem with the physician in charge. The young lady taught in the grade school of a small community. Her parents had separated and, on more than one occasion, their quarrels had been aired in court.

Brooding over the matter, the young woman became convinced that everyone knew about her family troubles and consequently scorned her. She believed her matrimonial chances had been ruined and was ashamed to attend popular gatherings because she felt herself the object of gossip. Gradually she withdrew more and more within herself and subsequent to a sleepless night, was unable to speak to her pupils the next day.

The very recital of her worries to her medical advisor, his understanding and sympathy, worked a quick cure. She was discharged with the advice to think of her own life rather than that of her parents. Eventually she was able to remain indifferent to family squabbles and transform herself into a resourceful, well rounded personality.

These individuals were unable to cope with their problems in a constructive way and substituted a physical malady that seemed more desirable than the real conflict. They were not faking but actually believed something was amiss. Cure depended upon the ability of the physician to locate the origin, which usually was disappointment or fear. Honest, wise, and sympathetic care resulted in cure.

TOMORROW: Investigate poor grades.

PRESSURE AND AGE

J. A. writes: I'm 80 years old and have had a blood pressure of 190 for some time. Is this dangerous?

REPLY

No. This only goes to show that longevity and high blood pressure can co-exist.

PATERNITY

Mrs. J. writes: I know blood tests can show that a man could or could not be the father of a certain child. But are there tests to prove that a man actually is the father?

REPLY

No. If the mother is type B, for example, and the child is A, the father could not be type O or B but he could be A or AB.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me!

By Bennett Cerf

Fishing is simplicity itself, explains Hamilton Clay Jr. "All you have to do is get there yesterday when the fish were biting."

One disciple of Isaac Walton picked the wrong day for sure. He was discovered by the father of a 7-year-old boy, pole discarded, hopping on one foot, caressing the other, and howling with anguish.

"What happened?" demanded the father. "I guess it's my fault," said the lad. "This man told me he hadn't had a bite all morning—so I bit him."

The city serenade of clinking garbage cans awoke Mrs. Slugabed from a deep slumber. Consulting her clock, she was shocked to discover that she had overslept by a full hour. She rushed to the window and hollered, "Am I late for the garbage this morning?"

Secretary Hobby Feared Being Tabbed As "Welfare State"-Type Executive

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — In order to make sure that President Eisenhower picks an outstanding successor to Mrs. Hobby it might be a good idea for the appropriate congressional committees to take a careful look at the entire Department of Health, Education, and Welfare. This would give the public some idea both of how important that agency is and the importance of having it administered by an executive really in sympathy with health, education, and welfare.

One trouble with Mrs. Hobby is that she's been so gun-shy of being tabbed a "welfare state" executive that she's run away from some of her most important duties. Even Herbert Hoover points this out.

The secretary of labor is charged with working for the rights of labor, and James Mitchell, the current Eisenhower appointee, has done a good job.

The secretary of commerce is charged with working for business, and Sinclair Weeks, whether you agree with him or not, has certainly gone all-out for business.

But Mrs. Hobby, who might have made an excellent secretary of commerce, has been scared to death about promoting health, education, and welfare.

Mrs. Hobby's Record

Here, for instance, are some questions which go to the heart of Mrs. Hobby's record, and which a congressional committee should probe carefully:

1. Why did Mrs. Hobby increase the amount of rat droppings permissible in grain for human consumption?

The Truman administration on October 15, 1952, began a campaign to inspect grain cars and grain elevators in order to clean weevil and rat manure out of the wheat consumed by the American public. But after 45 carloads of wheat were seized as having an excess of rat droppings, Mrs. Hobby, acting with Secretary of Agriculture Benson, wiped out the Truman order on May 1 1953.

This was done over the protest of the Food and Drug Administration and the bakers of the United States. Both opposed her vigorously. However, Mrs. Hobby abandoned government inspection of grain and took the word of the big grain-elevator operators that they would impose "voluntary" inspection — the same type of "voluntary" system, incidentally, that she has used for the distribution of Salk vaccine.

2. Who gave the order to abandon government inspection for rat droppings and weevil?

Peavey Heffelfinger of Minneapolis, chairman of the Republican National Finance Committee, lunched with Ike and discussed the grain-inspection program just before Mrs. Hobb abandoned it. Did her instructions come from Ike? It would be interesting for a congressional committee to get the exact facts.

3. Who tried to fire two Food and Drug officials because they insisted on grain inspection?

John L. Harvey and M. R. Stephens of Food and Drug aroused the opposition of the big grain lobby, which demanded that Mrs. Hobby give them the ax. For a time Mrs. Hobby was on the verge of firing them. Then Secretary Weeks' firing of Dr. Allen Astin as director of the Bureau of Standards caused such a furor that nothing happened.

These men were only trying to do their duty as guardians of the health of the American public, yet Mrs. Hobby seriously considered dropping them. Apparently she was not much interested in the nation's health.

Congress should ascertain how Mrs. Hobby's successor feels on this question.

4. Find out how much rat manure and weevil are now permitted in grain?

Mrs. Hobby finally discovered that "voluntary" grain inspection didn't work, and, with the bakers breathing down her neck, she reinstated government inspection — about one year later.

However, she now permits twice as much rat manure and weevil in grain for human consumption as allowed under the Truman order—namely, 64 pounds of rat droppings per carload and 12 gallons of urine per car.

5. Why did Mrs. Hobby want to cut medical research by $10,000,000 in 1953?

When the Senate, led by Lister Hill of Alabama, opposed a budget cut in medical research on cancer, polio, heart disease, epilepsy, muscular dystrophy, etc., Mrs. Hobby actually wrote to the budget director urging that her own budget for medical research be cut — even though the Hoover Commission has now urged more money for research.

Though cabinet members sometimes are forced to accept a budget cut, it's almost unheard of for a cabinet member to urge a budget cut. Yet Mrs. Hobby took a definite stand against medical research. Fortunately Senator Hill passed the appropriation over Mrs. Hobby's protest.

These medical research funds are allotted to universities and hospitals doing important work in research. They are not spent by the government. But Mrs. Hobby seemed afraid she might be accused of promoting socialized medicine.

5. Why did Mrs. Hobby take a stand against hospital construction under the Hill-Burton Act?

This is an important law by which the federal government puts up matching money to help localities build badly needed hospitals. Mrs. Hobby, though supposed to promote health, education, and welfare, seemed decidedly unenthusiastic about hospital construction.

6. Why did Mrs. Hobby try to cut the school-construction program in congested military and federal areas by $100,000,000?

Also why did she for two years oppose any school bill; until this year it became evident that Congress would force her hand if she didn't act?

These are just a few questions that a congressional committee ought to develop in detail, not only to ascertain the mistakes of the past but to make sure Mrs. Hobby's successor doesn't carry on as if he were secretary of commerce rather than secretary of health, education, and welfare.

Message From Asia

By Joseph Alsop

WASHINGTON

Asia is the vulnerable flank of the United States and the free world. That sentence would be this reporter's choice, if he were asked to compress into one sentence all the innumerable observations and impressions of a six months' journey in Asia.

If Asia is our vulnerable flank, moreover, it follows that almost all the developments that are now thought to be so hopeful are mere local and temporary gains. The freeing of Austria, for instance, is being hailed as the beginning of a new era of international relations; but there is no reason to suppose, as yet, that it is anything of the sort.

To be sure, the Soviets would never have freed Austria if immense progress had not been made, on many fronts, in reinforcing Western Europe against Communist pressures. But precisely because of this progress that began with the Marshall Plan and ended with German rearmament, Europe is no longer the place to look for signs of a new era's dawn.

No Signs In Sight

The leaders of world communism are not a pack of fools. They will not order a desperate frontal attack on a strongly fortified line, if there is a naked, unprotected flank by which the whole position can be taken. Asia is that flank. If there is any hope of peace between the free and Communist worlds, the place to look for signs of peace is in Asia. As of today, unfortunately, no such signs are in sight.

In the hope of getting what they want without the bothersome risk of fighting for it, the Chinese Communists have of course declared their willingness to talk about the situation in the Formosa Strait. But there is no jot or tittle of evidence that the Communists will not attack the offshore islands in the end, if the Eisenhower administration does not succeed in giving them Quemoy and the Matsus as a present.

And if the administration succeeds in making this handsome present to Peiping, there is no jot or tittle of evidence, either, that the Communists will not then proceed to prepare an early attack on Formosa proper. Possession of Quemoy and the Matsus will make this possible, and Peiping's claim to Formosa has never been abandoned or abated.

Danger More Complex

Furthermore, this local, predominantly military situation in the Formosa Strait is far less important, except as a symptom, than the political-military situation in Southeast Asia. It may be heresy to say so, but this country and the free world could well afford to lose Formosa if we could be sure of losing nothing further. Unfortunately, however, much more serious losses probably lie ahead in Southeast Asia, and in Southeast Asia, the danger is more complex than in the Formosa Strait.

At the bottom of the Southeast Asian problem, of course, there is the vast and increasing military power of communism in Asia. The weak Korean truce that the Eisenhower administration granted a China strained to the breaking point, in effect insured that all Asia would be indefinitely overshadowed by the huge army and large air force of the Peiping government. The Geneva-Munich added to the calculation another 20 divisions, which the Communist dominated Viet Minh are now whipping into shape in Northern Indochina.

But in Southeast Asia, it is the mere threat of Communist military power, rather than the direct application of Communist military power, that creates the primary problem. If affairs in Southern Indochina develop as badly as seems likely, even American policy must be expected to be semi-paralyzed by the menacing existence of 20 Viet Minh divisions in the North. The weak states of Southeast Asia are infinitely more likely to succumb to this kind of paralysis by unspoken military threat.

If these Asian nations had already found themselves, threats would shake them far less. But only Burma is even beginning to find herself. All are disorganized. All are open to infiltration. In all, large groups of the population are waiting to see which way the bandwagon is going. This internal weakness is in turn exaggerated by the threat of Communist military power, and so the Communists have the opportunity of repeating Joshua's stunt under the Walls of Jericho.

SEATO is no answer to this danger. Yet the danger must be met somehow, for the kind of chain reaction of triumphs that the Communists can now hope for in Southeast Asia, will surely beget an even more disastrous chain reaction in less remote parts of the world.

What motorists may find hard to believe is that that Illinois pigeon which beat a brand-new high-powered sports car in a race was just an old-fashioned model.

Cinnamon-Orange Loaf

¼ cup soft butter or margarine
⅓ cup light brown sugar, firmly packed
⅓ cup granulated sugar
½ teaspoon cinnamon
1 tablespoon orange juice
2 teaspoons grated orange rind
1 (1-pound) loaf sliced enriched bread

Combine butter, brown sugar, granulated sugar, cinnamon, orange juice and rind. To make: Assemble the loaf by stacking each slice of bread as you spread it with about 2 teaspoons of the sugar mixture. Hold the stack firmly and, with a sharp knife, trim away the crusts. Turn loaf on its side and set in a greased, shallow pan. Loosely tie a string, lengthwise, around the stack. Spread remaining sugar mixture over the top. Slice lengthwise, cutting completely through center of loaf. Gently pull top of loaf apart in several places. Bake in a hot oven (400° F.) for ten minutes.

Turn Meat Once During Broiling

Garden Walk Herb Loaf

Snip those bright green herbs—parsley, chives or green onions—growing along the garden walk or available in markets. Make a herb butter for French bread by adding to one-third cup of soft butter, one half cup finely chopped parsley and one tablespoon chopped chives or green onions and one crushed clove of garlic. Slice French bread, diagonally, not cutting quite through the lower crust. Spread slices with herb butter. Wrap loaf in metal foil and heat in a (400°F.) hot oven for 15 minutes. Serve piping hot.

Shelled Bean Salad

1 can (1 lb.) shelled beans, chilled and drained
1 cup sliced celery
2 hard-cooked eggs, chopped
2 tablespoons pickle relish
2 teaspoons minced onion
1 teaspoon salt
4 tablespoons tart French dressing

Combine all ingredients; toss together lightly. Serve in lettuce cups. Garnish with pimiento and parsley.

Orange Nut Bread

Cereal Flake Orange Nut Bread is a versatile quick bread for summer entertaining. You can prepare it the day you use it or several days ahead of time. Cereal Flake Orange Nut Bread keeps well when thoroughly wrapped and refrigerated or frozen in the freezer. It's especially good spread with cream cheese and made into dainty tea sandwiches. Cereal Flake Orange Nut Bread sandwiches served with a fresh fruit salad and cold lemonade garnished with fresh mint make an ideal summer-time meal. Try it for Saturday lunch or Sunday afternoon tea. This cool, refreshing summer menu will win praise from your family or guests.

A good basic breakfast of fruit, cereal, milk, bread and butter is a must for your family in the hot summer months. Breakfast is the ideal time to provide one-fourth of the food your family needs for pep and vitality. Variety adds interest to summer breakfasts. Toasted Cereal Flake Orange Nut Bread served hot and buttered will be a pleasant change.

Cereal Flake Orange Nut Bread

2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
1 tablespoon baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
½ cup sugar
1 tablespoon grated orange rind
½ cup chopped nuts
1 egg, well beaten
¾ cup orange juice
3 tablespoons melted fat or salad oil
1 cup whole wheat flakes

Sift together flour, baking powder, salt, and sugar; stir in orange rind and nuts. Combine egg, orange juice, and fat, and add to flour mixture, stirring only until well mixed. Stir in whole wheat flakes. Turn into greased loaf pan, 8½ x 4½ x 2½ inches, and bake in moderate oven (350°F.) about 1 hour. Cool on rack. Yield: 1 loaf

Swiss Loaf

1 (1-pound) loaf unsliced enriched bread
¼ cup butter or margarine
½ cup finely chopped onion
¼ cup chili sauce
1 tablespoon celery seeds
10 slices Swiss cheese, 1-ounce each

Cut bread diagonally, almost through to the bottom crust, into 10 equal-size slices. Melt butter in a skillet; add onion and saute about five minutes. Add chili sauce and celery seeds and heat five minutes longer. Spread onion mixture and place 1 cheese slice between each slice of bread. Place loaf on a cookie sheet. Pour remaining onion mixture over top. Heat in a moderate oven (350° F.) for twenty minutes.

Yield: 10 servings.

What's A State? U.S. Senate Has Difficulty Finding Out

WASHINGTON, June 2 (AP)—The U. S. Senate is getting along fine, and as soon as it figures out what a state is, it probably will get along even faster. You know, a state, like Georgia or Oklahoma. How would you define it?

During a debate on a highway bill, the question of acquiring a right-of-way came up. And soon Sen. Walter F. George (D) of Vienna, Ga., and Sen. Robert Kerr (D) of Oklahoma City were in a discussion that went like this:

George: Who will request it? (That is, the right-of-way.)

Kerr: The state.

George: Yes; the highway department, which gets its money from a bureau in Washington.

Kerr: I challenge the senator to show me the words "highway department."

Kerr: The state.

George: Who is going to do it for the state?

Kerr: Whoever the state designates. This language says the state. It does not say the state highway department . . .

George: I ask the senator what authority is going to make the request—the state legislature or the governor? What does the bill say?

Kerr: The bill says the state.

George: What is a state, within the meaning of the bill?

Kerr: For me to attempt to tell the great senator from Georgia what a state is would certainly be presumptuous on my part.

George: I did not ask the senator about that. I asked what is a state within the definition of this bill. The senator has used the word "state." What is a state under the definition of this bill?

Kerr: I say to the senator this bill does not attempt to define what a state is.

George: It leaves it up in the air?

Kerr: No. The definition of a state has been adjudicated, as the senator knows, from time immemorial.

George: What has been adjudicated?

George: Oh, no.

Kerr: Where the bill refers to a highway department, it says so.

George: I understand that, but in this instance it says state and I ask the senator to define "state."

Kerr: I repeat that for me to attempt to define "state" to such a distinguished authority on states as the eminent senator from Georgia would be presumptuous on my part. If I were seeking the definition of state, the senator from Georgia would be the first man to whom I would go. . . .

George: I am sorry the senator continues to pay me excessive compliments when I am not asking them. I have asked for information. I have gotten exceedingly little up to now.

And so it went, round and round the senatorial mulberry bush to no decision.

M-m-m-m! Strawberry Time!

Ever feel as if you want to eat strawberries three times a day? Even if you aren't that crazy about strawberries, here is one recipe that you will decide is worthy of frequent repetitions.

Make the filling in advance—in the morning, or the day before . . . chill thoroughly. Assemble the pie just before serving—then whip up the fluffy topping, spread it over the pie and garnish with fresh strawberries nested in coconut as snowy white as the meringue itself. But no need to start the oven for this meringue! . . . and remember room temperature for egg whites makes for higher meringues.

Coconut Cream Strawberry Pie

⅓ cup sugar
⅓ cup sifted flour
¼ teaspoon salt
3 cups milk
1 cup shredded coconut, cut, if desired
2 egg yolks, slightly beaten
2 teaspoons vanilla
1 tablespoon butter
1 pint strawberries
1 baked 9-inch pie shell

2 egg whites, unbeaten
½ cup sugar
⅛ teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons water
½ teaspoon vanilla
½ cup shredded coconut

Combine ⅓ cup sugar, flour, and salt in top of double boiler; add milk gradually, stirring until smooth. Add 1 cup coconut. Cook over rapidly boiling water 15 minutes, stirring constantly. Mix small amount of mixture with egg yolks, return to double boiler, and cook 2 minutes longer. Remove from heat. Add vanilla and butter. Cool. Slice 1 cup of berries and place in pie shell; then add filling.

Place egg whites, sugar, salt, and water in top of double boiler; beat with egg beater until thoroughly mixed. Place over rapidly boiling water and beat 1 minute; then remove from heat and continue beating 2 minutes, or until mixture will stand in peaks. Add vanilla. Pile lightly on filling. Sprinkle with ½ cup coconut and garnish with remaining strawberries. Serve at once.

New Rye Bred

RAY T. EHLERT of California, Mo., compares a common variety of rye (left) with Tetra Petkus, developed in Indiana and already being grown also in Ohio. The new variety grows rapidly and has a thicker stem; the grain is larger and the heads longer. Ehlert said his cattle passes through a patch of wheat to graze the rye.

Trucks take 89 per cent of United States food to its first market.

Butterscotch Loaf

¼ cup soft butter or margaine
¾ cup brown sugar
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
¼ cup chopped walnuts
2 tablespoons water
1 (1-pound) loaf unsliced enriched bread

Combine butter, brown sugar, nutmeg, walnuts and water. Cut bread, almost through to bottom crust, into twelve equal-sized slices. Spread butterscotch mixture between each slice of bread. Place loaf in oblong shallow baking dish. Heat in a moderate oven (350° F.) for fifteen minutes.

Parmesan Rye Toasties

2 tablespoons soft butter or margarine
2 tablespoons finely grated Parmesan cheese
2 dozen thin slices party rye bread

Combine butter and Parmesan cheese. Spread on each slice of rye bread, using ½ teaspoon Parmesan butter per slice. Place on a cookie sheet, spread side up, and toast in a hot oven (400° F.) for ten minutes, or until crisp. Serve as a snack, or with salads and soups.

Yield: 2 dozen Parmesan Rye Toasties.

Frozen Food Tips

(A.) Soup stock when frozen will keep for several months. However, some of the vegetables which go into soup do not keep well when frozen and they lose some of their appearance and flavor. For this reason it is best to cook all of the vegetables with the stock at the time of serving. Many women find it convenient to make up a large amount of stock at once and then freeze it in small containers, just large enough to hold servings for one meal.

Brazil boasts the largest stadium in the world, Maracara, which seats more than 150,000 spectators. It provides an impressive setting for soccer games, Brazil's national sport. Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — What a flood of memories will crowd Lillian Gish's mind when she returns from Europe to play Grace Kelly's mother in "The Swan." In 1939, Lillian was the star of the MGM picture portraying the princess, which now falls to Grace.

Both ladies have been absent from MGM for some time, Grace for over a year while on and off suspension, and "The Cobweb" is Lillian's last picture for Leo the Lion. Since then she's been in Europe—well, so has Miss Kelly.

On June 16, Margaret O'Brien will be a sweet girl graduate when she receives her diploma from University High School. She's 18 now, and she tells me that she starts work four days later at RKO in "Glory."

"Aren't you going to college?" I asked her.

"Walter Brennan and Charlotte Greenwood have been signed by Producer-Director David Butler for 'Glory'," says Margaret, "and I'm hoping that RKO will get Gary Crosby to play opposite me. I see him going in and out of church and he seems so nice." What? Another admirer for young Mr. Crosby!

After Margaret Hayes played the sexy school teacher in "Blackboard Jungle" she had plenty of offers and turned them all down. That was because she didn't want to be separated from her husband, Herbert Swope Jr., and their two children, in New York.

But now the entire Swope clan is back in Hollywood to live until October—at least. Margaret's husband is a TV producer and he's been transferred to the Coast until middle fall.

She's sure to accept some movie jobs because whether you happened to like "Blackboard Jungle" or not, the picture is a financial hit, Margaret was plenty good and attracted the attention of many producers.

Mrs. Edmund Purdon says that she is moving in the next two weeks, which will make six times in eight months. She told me that she rented Guy Madison's house at Malibu and her lease is up.

"Next time I move it's going to be permanent. I am going to buy a house," said Tita.

Dorothy is going with him and he opens in San Antonio July 27, tours all of Texas and boy! is it hot in the Lone Star State in summer. He then goes on to Philadelphia, Baltimore, Buffalo and on and on.

Jack is making the trip just as a presidential candidate might travel. He has chartered a plane. Rifhard Breen, his righthand man, will accompany him. He'll meet the press and by the time he comes back, "Pete Kelly's Blues" will be the most thoroughly advertised picture in the business.

Frostburg Man Among New Methodist Clergy

WESTMINSTER, Md., June 2 (AP)—Ten young preachers who have completed seven years of schooling and at least two years of probationary work stood before the Baltimore Conference of the Methodist Church today and were admitted to full-fledged membership.

Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam will ordain them as elders on Sunday. It is the highest clerical order in the Methodist Church.

To gain admission "in full connection" with the Baltimore Conference they stood before Bishop Oxnam today and answered the traditional questions which John Wesley put to fledgling preachers when he was formulating the precepts of Methodism in England 300 years ago.

Among them is Donald Wayne Llewellyn, from Frostburg, Md., a graduate of Lycoming University and Westminster Seminary. He has been serving as pastor of Exeter Memorial Church in Baltimore.

Americans are salvaging less waste paper—in proportion to production—than at any other time since 1909.

Many Puzzled At Lack Of Interest

KEYSER—The bi-ennial election will be held in Keyser on next Tuesday, the polls opening at 7:30 a. m., and closing at 8:30 p. m. The fact that an election must be held, and that there will be only one candidate for the office of mayor, and one for a vacancy in council, will be an expensive business for the city government, as judges and clerks must man each of the regular three precincts, in accordance with election laws.

Mayor John C. Freeland, for the first time in his career as a city officer has no opposition. A vacancy occurred in the three-man council when Raymond Murray declined to be a candidate again because of his business and other activities taking his time.

In the meantime E. T. Kessel announced his candidacy and is running without opposition for the council.

There are only four municipal offices in the city governing body, and the offices are filled for two years each. Only two officers are elected at a time. The mayor and one councilman are elected one year and the following year two councilmen are elected. There is always half of the governing body as holdovers. This year Councilmen Lester Oates and Paul Peters are the holdovers.

However, with no opposition for the two candidates, it will cost the city approximately $300 to conduct the election.

This matter has been discussed by local citizens for the past few weeks but the city can do nothing, under the law, except conduct the election. No one in the community is advocating doing away with regular free elections,

Area Robberies Being Probed

SOMERSET—Pennsylvania State Police in Somerset County are probing a recent series of burglaries which netted "yeggs" more than $600 in cash and approximately $370 worth of merchandise.

The most recent entry occurred early Tuesday morning at Harry Tunstall's service station, RD 2, Somerset. Stolen were tires, batteries, tools and other equipment valued at $350.

Culprits also took $40 in currency from a cigaret vending machine and damaged the device. Entrance was gained through a side window, the latch of which had been sprung.

About $560 was reportedly stolen Saturday night from the John Deere farm equipment building in Meyersdale, according to Sgt. Elmer Schmoyer, commander of the Somerset sub-station.

Thieves rifled a safe, cash register and cigar box after breaking into the place through a rear window and door. The undamaged safe apparently had been left open or the combination was known by the burglars, Schmoyer said.

William D. Wesley, co-operator of the Pine Grove Tavern between Meyersdale and Salisbury, reported about $30 was taken from a cigaret machine in the establishment Saturday night. Also missing are four bottles of whisky.

Former Hancock Airman Killed

HANCOCK—Major William Henry Perkins, Jr., formerly of Hancock, was one of four crewmen of a B-47 Stratojet bomber killed when it crashed Tuesday in a takeoff from Barksdale Air Force Base, Shreveport, La.

Major Perkins was the son of William Henry Perkins, Sr., a former resident of Hagerstown, and plant guard at Fairchild Aircraft Division.

Witnesses to the crash said the big bomber made a normal takeoff and leveled off at about 300 feet for several seconds before it suddenly banked sharply to the right and plunged to the ground nose first. The plane then caught fire.

Major Perkins had been in the Air Force since 1941.

Mt. Savage High Gives Diplomas To 53 Seniors

MT. SAVAGE — Nine of the 53 graduates of Mt. Savage High School received special awards at the school's annual commencement here last night.

Citizenship awards of $10 each offered by Old Rail Post No. 6025, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and the Old Rail Post Auxiliary, were presented to Morgan Morgan III and Nancy Lancaster. The presentations were made by Alfred H. Benna, principal.

The biggest award winner was Rebecca House. She won the $10 scholarship prize given by the Mt. Savage Junior Order, United American Mechanics, for the highest four-year scholastic average in her class, the $10 Latin prize, offered by St. George's Episcopal Church, one of two $10 PTA awards for excellence in senior English and the Readers Digest award for being the class valedictorian.

Two other students were awarded two prizes each. Edward Williams won the Woodmen of the World medal for excellence in United States history and a $25 bond from the Mt. Savage Volunteer Fire Company as the senior boy who has displayed qualities of a good sportsman. Mona Bridges won one of the English awards along with Miss House and the $5 prize offered by Wildey Rebekah Lodge No. 4, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, for the highest average in science.

Other prize winners were Frances Watkins, $10 Mt. Savage Homemakers Club award for proficiency in home arts; Julia Blank, Mt. Savage Lions Club achievement plaque as the senior who has striven to make the best use of her talents; Darlene Stevens, $5 award of Pride of Mt. Savage, Daughters of America, for outstanding moral courage, and Frances Weimer, $5 award of the school journalism department for outstanding proficiency in journalism.

Diplomas were presented to the 53 seniors by Mrs. Stanley Buckley, member of the Allegany County Board of Education.

The speaker for the commencement was Dr. Frederick M. Maroney, dean of students of Brooklyn College. He was presented by Richard T. Rizer, assistant superintendent of county schools.

The Senior Class held their Baccalaureate Services in the school earlier this week.

Miss Roberta Lashley, organist and pianist, opened the program with "Prayer of Hansel and Gretel." This was followed by the processional with the graduates marching in to "Marche Nuptiale." Then the hymn "Faith of Our Fathers" was sung.

The invocation was given by the Rev. Fr. Michael Smyth followed by two selections by the Junior and Senior Chorus under the direction of Mr. Alfred Snyder. The chorus sang, "I'll Walk with God" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The sermon was preached by the Rev. Frederick Oberkircher. The theme of the sermon was Opportunity, Fidelity, and Reward. The Rev. Oberkircher pointed out that each individual is endowed with at least one talent and some people with many talents but it is the duty of everyone of us to make use of the talents given him whether they be one or many.

The benediction was given by the Rev. Fr. Michael Smyth, followed by the Recessional "War March of the Priests" during which the graduates marched out of the auditorium.

Market Shakes Doldrums To Score Modest Advance

NEW YORK, June 2 (AP) — The stock market shook free from the doldrums today and managed a modest advance.

The steels did well along with motors, rubbers, farm implements, aircrafts, distillers, chemicals, motion pictures, building materials, and utilities.

The railroads were ahead most of the session but ran into mild profit-taking near the close. Tobaccos, weak yesterday, made a small recovery gesture today.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up 50 cents at $165.30. The industrial component of the average was ahead $1.00, rails were down 20 cents, and utilities were up 20 cents.

Sperry Rand Corp., trading on a "when issued" basis, was the day's most active issue, for the second straight time, up 1¼ at 25¼ on volume of 146,700 shares.

Alleghany Corp., in second place as it was yesterday, gained ⅛ at 10. It was followed by the old Remington Rand stock up 2½ at 50¼, the old Sperry stock up 4⅜ at 81⅜, and Western Union up ⅝ at 25.

Alleghany preferred, which is being exchanged for a new preferred stock, continued its climb with a gain today of 16 points at 316. It was up 8 points yesterday.

Farm implements were featured by a rise of ¾ in International Harvester, which got a government mail truck contract, and an advance of ⅞ in Deere, which reported excellent earnings.

Crime Rate Of City Is Low According To FBI Reports

The residents of Cumberland proved to be more law-abiding in the past year than did those in most communities in the United States.

This finding is based on the Uniform Crime Reports of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, comprising data gathered from police departments throughout the country.

A total of 259 crimes was handled by Cumberland police during the year. On the basis of local population, this amounted to 683 offenses per 100,000 people and was much better than the rate of 1,900 per 100,000 recorded for the other cities in the United States having populations over 25,000.

The local rate stood up well, also, in comparison with that for all cities, large and small. They averaged 1,846 crimes per 100,000.

The trend in crime is brought out by a breakdown of the statistics. It shows, for Cumberland, a predominance of larcenies, with 177 reported. The other totals were: burglaries, 33, auto thefts, 41, robberies, 2, assaults, 6, and murders, none.

The past year, according to the FBI, was the seventh in a row in which there was an increase in the amount of crime in the country. The rise was five percent over 1953. Only a part of it can be attributed to an increase in population. The figures show that crime has been going up four times as fast as population, according to the FBI.

Especially marked, it continues, is the situation in rural areas where the crime rate rose 8.3 per cent last year as compared with 4.0 per cent in urban sections.

Reds Free Scientists

WASHINGTON, June 2 (AP)—American Aviation Magazine said today Soviet Russia has released many captive German scientists, including the majority of some 200 V2 rocket experts.

The aviation industry publication said the only conclusion to be drawn from the releases is that the Communists have become self-sufficient in the aviation sciences and have no further work for top German experts.

(End of Season)

Pounding the offerings of Don and Bob Paye for eleven safeties and scoring in five of the six innings, Fort Hill High's Sentinels walloped Allegany High School yesterday at Fort Hill Field by the score of 11-4 and won the Bi-State Conference baseball championship.

Coach John J. "Bobby" Cavanaugh's aggregation wound up its league season with a 14-2 record and finished two games ahead of Beall and LaSalle which finished in a tie for the runner-up spot with 12 wins and four losses each.

By beating Allegany for the second time, the Greenway Avenue team made a clean sweep of four games in the city championship race. Fort Hill won the series opener from the Campers by the score of 1-0 and took two games from LaSalle, 4-3 and 6-2.

Capture Fifth Title

It marked the fifth time in the 17-year history of the Bi-State Conference that the Sentinels finished on top. They won the title outright in 1941, 1942, 1948 and this year. In 1948 the race ended in a deadlock and the Hilltoppers beat Allegany in the playoff contest, 16-8. Fort Hill and LaSalle tied for the title in 1943 (8-2) but there was no playoff.

Lefty Wayne Murray brought the season to a glorious close by turning in a 5-0 record. He won over Don Paye in the first game of the series, 1-0, and scattered nine hits and struck out an even dozen yesterday to windup the season unbeaten.

Dorcil Kline with a double and single to his credit batted in four Fort Hill runs. McGregor and Roy also garnered two safeties. Rodney Breedlove accounted for two of Allegany's nine blows.

Thurl Roy, ninth grader, played at short for Fort Hill in the place of Clarence "Pooch" Lewis, who suffered a thumb fracture of the left hand while sliding into second base in the game at Flintstone Wednesday.

Beall Blanks LaSalle

Coach Ebbie Finzel's Beall High School tossers tied LaSalle for second place by whipping Explorers at Frostburg by the score of 4-0 in a game featured by the pitching of Ronnie Rice and Lefty Bill Roberts. The Beall victory snapped LaSalle's six-game winning streak.

Rice registered his eighth win of the campaign against three losses. He fanned 12 and issued only one base on balls. Two of Beall's tallies came on wild pitches by Roberts. It was the only shutout defeat suffered by the Explorers this season.

Roberts struck out ten and issued three passes. It was his third loss against five wins.

Beall's Felker and Regis Fair of LaSalle had two of the four hits credited to their teams.

Bubble Punctured

BLACKSBURG, Va. (AP) — Virginia Tech pitcher Dave Kuhn was mowing down William and Mary batters with easy regularity until Umpire Joe Peverell called a halt. William and Mary players had protested. It was a bit unnerving for the opposing pitcher to blow a bubblegum bubble before letting go with his high hard one.

ASSIGNS FAIRGO STALLS — A. Edwin Moore has the job of assigning stalls to the horsemen planning to race their thoroughbreds at Fairgo, June 15-25, and he's kept busy these days trying to find room for approximately 500 thoroughbreds in the barns at the local half miler. Close to 600 applications have been received. A veteran of the First World War in which he saw action overseas with the Twenty-Ninth Division, Moore, who marked his 60th birthday yesterday, has been associated with the Cumberland Fair Association since Fairgo was opened in 1924. He has helped with the stabling of the horses in past years and this year he has the big job all to himself. Edwin has been employed at the store of Schwarzenbach and Son for 34 years.

Marty Furgol Leads "Adding Machine" Open

Illinois Pro's Score Is Eight-Plus Points

By WILL GRIMSLEY

GREAT NECK, N. Y., June 2 (AP)—Lightly-regarded Marty Furgol piled up the points but Sam Snead and ex-gridder Mike Souchak played the golf today in the opening round of the Deepdale Round Robin Tournament.

Furgol, 36-year-old touring veteran from Lemont, Ill., took the lead in this so-called "adding machine open" with a score of eight-plus points—achieved with a respective par 70 round over the 6,693-yard Deepdale course.

In second place at plus-7 came Australia's Peter Thomson and Tommy Bolt of Houston, with a pair of 69's, followed by former National Open champion Julius Boros, with plus-six on an even par 70.

Snead, the defending champion, and Souchak, the former Duke University end, were the only other players on the plus side of the ledger although they, playing in the same foursome, turned in sparkling rounds of two-under-par 68. They were plus-5.

The reason for this unusual situation is that in the Deepdale round robin each player's score is matched with that of the others in his foursome and the standings are set up accordingly.

It so happened that Snead and Souchak were bracketed in the day's toughest "cut 'em up" quartet, with the Masters champion Cary Middlecoff and PGA champion Chick Harbert as playing companions.

Harbert fired a 70 and Middlecoff a 72, taking a double bogey six on the final hole when he sliced his approach wide of the green and flubbed his pitch.

Furgol picked up eight-plus total against Bob Rosburg of San Francisco, who had a 72, and Shelley Mayfield and Johnny Palmer, each with 73.

Snead finished fast, getting consecutive birdies on the 15th, 16th and 17th holes, but he three-putted the 18th from 20 feet to lose his opportunity to take first place.

Patterson Creek, Ridgeley Winners In Mineral League

Ridgeley took the measure of Turnaround, 11-7, and Patterson Creek spilled the McCoole Vets, 9-7, in Mineral County Softball League games staged yesterday at Turnaround and Patterson Creek.

Fritz Showers went all the way to twirl Ridgeley to victory while Ronnie Phillips paced the attack with three hits in four trips, including a three-run homer. Bill Kenney had three hits and Johnny Yaider walloped a homer for Turnaround.

The McCoole - Patterson Creek game was punctuated by four home runs. For the winners, Bud Dyer clouted a homer, triple and double, Lambert hit for the circuit and Walter Abe garnered two singles. Smith poled a four-bagger and double, Grubbs hit a homer and Spitzer obtained a two-bagger and single to pace McCoole.

Pirates Trim St. Louis, 12-3

Bucs Gather 17 Hits, Max Surkont Winner

PITTSBURGH, June 2 (AP)—Home runs by Frank Thomas and Dale Long today featured a lusty 17-hit Pittsburgh attack on five pitchers which netted the Pirates an overwhelming 12-3 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals.

Thomas blasted his fourth homer of the season in the second inning and Long came up with his third in the fifth.

Max Surkont went the distance for the Pirates, picking up his fourth triumph against five defeats. Starter Harvey Haddix was charged with the defeat, his eighth. He has won two.

Long collected two singles in addition to his four-bagger and had a total of five RBI's.

Score Beats Orioles, 9-3

Herb Posts Sixth Victory, Fans Ten

CLEVELAND, June 2 (AP)—Southpaw Herb Score started out red hot today against the Baltimore Orioles, fanning 10 in the first four innings, and although he cooled off in the late frames, the Cleveland Indians won 9-3 for a sweep of their three-game series with the last-placers.

Until the eighth, when Gus Triandos, Hal Smith and Jim Pyburn singled, Score had goose-egged Baltimore on two hits—a third inning single by Billy Cox and a sixth-inning double by Smith.

In the eighth, Score walked Chuck Diering to fill the bases with none out, Pyburn's single scored two runs and a third came in when Willie Miranda hit into a double play.

For Score, pitching his first time this year against the Orioles, it was his sixth victory against three losses. His mates staked him to a lead of six unearned runs in the second inning, four of them on Dave Pope's homer.

The Tribe scored six unearned runs off Saul Rogovin in the second inning. After Sam Dente and Hank Foiles singled, shortstop Willie Miranda threw wild on Score's grounder to fill the bases. Walks forced in two runs, then Pope hit his grand slam homer over the right field fence, his sixth of the season.

Trabert, Davidson To Play For Title

PARIS, June 2 (AP)—Defending champion Tony Trabert, America's hottest player at the moment, and Sweden's top man, Sven Davidson, today won their way to the men's singles finals of the French International Tennis Tournament.

Trabert, of Cincinnati, won his match when his Davis Cup teammate, Hamilton Richardson of Baton Rouge, La., sprained his right ankle and was unable to continue. Trabert had won the first set 6-1 and was clearly in command when Richardson made a flying dive for a difficult shot in the second set and wound up rolling on the court near the net.

Davidson humbled Italy's Guiseppe Merlo 6-3, 6-3, 6-2 in their semi-final match. It was sweet revenge for Davidson, who was eliminated in straight sets from the Italian tournament last month by Merlo.

Hermanettes Will Battle Hubbard, Ohio, Here Sunday

Buckeye Tossers Won 1954 District Crown

Cumberland's Old German Hermanettes will host the Hubbard (Ohio) Girls, district softball champions of 1954, in a doubleheader Sunday at 2 p. m. at Penn Avenue Field, Manager Gene Scaletta announced last night.

The Ohioans won 26 games and lost six last season and they have copped two out of three games this year, winning a twin bill from Akron, Ohio, and losing a 12-inning encounter to another Buckeye State club by the score of 4-3.

This is not a league twin bill as Hubbard is not represented in the Atlantic Coast Girls' Softball League in which Cumberland has won two and lost two games. The Hermanettes' overall record is three wins and five losses.

Jo Ann Lynn and Eleanor Kerr are slated to pitch for Hubbard with Shirley Risen behind the plate. Pat Thompson and Katie Hoffman will work the points for the locals in the first game while Becky Lechliter or Pat Main will be on the firing line for the locals in the nightcap affair.

"Buck" Frantz and Kenneth Grimes will be the umpires.

Elizabeth, Pa., defeated Washington, D. C., 5-4 and 9-5 and Burgettstown, Pa., topped Washington, D. C., 5-2 and 9-6 in Atlantic Coast League twin bills the past weekend. The standings to date:

"James" replied the man, "from Fort Scott, Kan."

The man sighed and reached for his wallet, pulling from it his social security card. He said, "You're not going to believe this but here it is."

Newell had arrested Jesse James.

Al Kaline Paces Detroit To Win

Regains A. L. Batting Lead In 4-3 Triumph

DETROIT, June 2 (AP)—Young Al Kaline, the early season hitting sensation who refuses to let his batting average fade away, recaptured the American League batting lead today with two singles and a triple while leading the Detroit Tigers to a 4-3 victory over the Washington Senators.

The 20-year-old outfielder pushed his average to .382, three points higher than teammate Harvey Kuenn, who is idled by an injured leg. Kaline singled past third base in the fourth inning and scored the Tigers' first run when Ray Boone and Bubba Phillips followed with singles.

Washington had taken a 1-0 lead in the top of the fourth when Pete Runnels lined his second home run of the season into the upper right field deck.

Trucks Masters Boston Sox, 4-2

CHICAGO, June 2 (AP)—A seventh-inning double play with the bases loaded enabled the Chicago White Sox to turn back the Boston Red Sox, 4-2 today as Virgil (Fire) Trucks notched his fifth triumph.

Trucks needed relief from Sandy Consuegra, who was in charge as Boston's seventh inning threat ended when right fielder Jim Rivera snatched Harry Agganis' drive and doubled Ted Williams off first base.

Williams, who went hitless against the White Sox yesterday, also was blanked today in three official trips although he walked twice and was safe on an error in the seventh.

Chicago Cubs Lose To Philadelphia, 8-4

PHILADELPHIA, June 2 (AP) — Andy Seminick's first inning grand slam homer started the surging Philadelphia Phillies on the road to an 8-4 win over the Chicago Cubs tonight. Although he wasn't around for the finish, Curt Simmons chalked up his second win against the same number of losses, batting in one run with a third-inning single.

The Cubs got two of their runs on Ernie Bank's seventh inning homer—his 13th of the seasons.

Simmons, who looked strong through the first six innings, weakened in the seventh and gave way to Bob Miller. Curt fanned three in his six and two-thirds inning stint and gave up three of the Cub runs.

The Phillies lumped five runs in the first inning and added the other three in the third.

Moran Arrested For Perjury In Probe Of Fight

Matchmaker Accused Of False Testimony

PHILADELPHIA, June 2 (INS) — Matchmaker Pete Moran was arrested and held in $3500 bail for the grand jury today on a perjury charge in the first police action stemming from Pennsylvania's investigation of boxing.

Moran, 63, a former lightweight fighter, had matched the ill-fated televised Philadelphia bout of May 6 in which an allegedly drugged Harold Johnson lost on a second-round tko to Cuban Julio Mederos.

He was accused by Commissioner Alfred M. Klein of falsely testifying that he had made no recent contact with Peter Perri, a man whose name allegedly was forged on Johnson's contract.

Moran later revised his testimony after Mrs. Peter Perri, Peter's wife, testified that she met Moran last Thursday and that he attempted to counsel her on testimony regarding the signature on the contract.

Moran said he had probably misunderstood the question because of his faulty hearing. He is charged with having an illegal financial interest in Johnson.

After being held in bail by quarter sessions Judge Charles A. Waters, Moran resumed the stand at the commission hearing but took refuge in the fifth amendment. He specifically refused to answer questions about his income in recent years.

The commission then adjourned the hearings until 9:30 a.m. next Tuesday.

CENTRAL PRESS SPORTS EDITOR

THE "STAR" tag was placed on Mickey Mantle early and, considering everything, the kid from Oklahoma has done a fine job in making it stick.

When the Oklahoma Kid barged in the big time in 1951 after a sensational spring performance, he was given one of the biggest buildups of all time.

And why not?

Here was a 19-year-old youth, with only two seasons of very minor league experience, making the great Yankee club as a replacement for the one and only Joe DiMaggio and that feat, in itself, was a tremendous one.

He failed to last out that first season, being sent down to Kansas City, but he was brought up again later in the campaign and has been a regular for the last three years.

He came through, hitting home runs which brought out the tape measure, and, adding to his crowd appeal was the fact that he could hit them from either side of the plate.

A bad knee condition, however, slowed him to some extent and because he didn't compile a hefty .350 or better average the star dust began to wear off until Mickey became just an ordinary ball player on a weaker Yankee team and not a super star.

• • •

THIS SEASON, his fifth as a Yankee, the Mick started out in the best physical condition he has ever been in and, with the star dust dropping off, he has come through with a steller performance.

At the moment, he leads the league in homers and runs-batted-in and is among the top hitters.

His big bat has helped carry a mediocre New York club to the top of the A. L. standings after a fine home stand.

Maybe Mickey will prove to be that super star they said he was.

He's only 23 now and he has many big years ahead.

• • •

THERE ARE two other Mantle brothers, and they also are playing baseball. They were given a try by the Yanks and then farmed out.

Brooklyn Gets 10 Runs In 8th, Wallops Braves

Snider Clouts 16th Homer In 13-2 Tilt

BROOKLYN, June 2 (AP)—Brooklyn hit a new high for the season with a 10-run outburst in the eighth inning today to thump Milwaukee 13-2.

Billy Loes allowed only six hits, including homers by pinchhitter Eddie Mathews in the eighth and by Johnny Logan in the ninth.

Duke Snider, who hit three homers against the Braves last night, connected for his 16th with Pee Wee Reese on base in the third inning, long before the Dodgers erupted. Sandy Amoros' triple and a wild pitch by Bob Buhl had given the Brooks a run in the second.

The eighth was a nightmare for Manager Charlie Grimm, who used three Milwaukee pitchers in an attempt to stop the rally. He had removed Buhl for pinchhitter Mathews in the top of the inning. Dave Jolly, Roberto Vargas and finally John Edelman, a new bonus pitcher who just joined the club today, took turns ducking Dodger line drives.

Reese started it all by working Jolly for a walk. Snider and Roy Campanella singled. Amoros doubled off the scoreboard and Gil Hodges and Jackie Robinson walked. At that point, three runs were in and the bases still were loaded with nobody out. One of the big blows that inning was Junior Gilliam's triple, which drove in two runs.

The carnage included 10 runs, nine hits and three walks.

Antonelli Beats Cincinnati, 6-3

NEW YORK, June 2 (AP)—Johnny Antonelli whipped Cincinnati for the eighth straight time since he became a New York Giant last year, stopping the Redlegs with six hits today for a 6-3 victory with the help of homers by Don Mueller and Willie Mays.

Ted Kluszewski hammered his 15th homer off Antonelli with nobody on in the sixth but Mays matched it with his 14th off Bud Podbielan in the seventh.

Harris Is Recalled

NEW YORK, June 2 (AP) — Gail Harris, slugging first baseman of the Minneapolis Millers in the American Assn., was recalled today by the parent New York Giants baseball team. Harris has hit 17 home runs for the Millers in 33 games. His batting average is .310.

To make room for the left handed hitter, the Giants optioned Billy Gardner, reserve infielder, to the Millers.

When Winners Lose

OCEANPORT, N. J. — (AP) — Racing fans at Monmouth Park have failed to cash tickets on winning horses worth $291,778 in the track's nine years of operation. The only explanation is that the tickets were lost, accidentally destroyed or misinterpreted by their purchasers.

Three American Golfers Survive British Amateur

Patton, Bisplinghoff, Conrad Win Matches

By STERLING SLAPPEY

ST. ANNES, England, June 2 (AP) — The Americans finally got thinned out today in the British Amateur Golf Championship as form changed as suddenly as the weather. But it took three other Americans and an Englishman to do the job.

Alan Slater, a Yorkshire engineer, whipped U. S. Walker Cup player Dale Morey in the gusty fourth round this morning. In the fifth round this afternoon, he beat Jimmy McHale, ex-Walker cupper, in one of the finest matches played this week.

Joining him in the quarter finals were the survivors of three all-American matches in the fifth round—Billy Joe Patton and Joe Conrad of the American Walker Cup forces, and Don Bisplinghoff of Orlando, Fla.

Others to reach the quarter finals were Ireland's Joe Carr, the 1953 British champion, who made the last eight for the sixth straight year; Phil Scrutton, 33-year-old English master stevedore who was Carr's Walker Cup teammate; ex-Walker cupper Arthur Perowne and Roger Bayliss, former Olympic figure skater.

Slater played steady golf to beat Morey 2 and 1 and McHale 1-up.

Patton eliminated England's Jack Jones 5 and 4.

Then when the wind died down, he won, 5 and 3, from George Coleman, wealthy 47-year-old banker and oil man from Miami, Okla.

Bisplinghoff gave young Walker cupper Bruce Cudd of Portland, Ore., a through 4 and 2 lacing.

Double Fight Duty

SHERMAN, Tex. (AP) — Two contestants in the Texoma Boxing tournament were going at it hot and heavy when they had to quit and scramble to take part in a mock fight—a surprise national guard call.

29 Is Lucky

CHICAGO (AP) — — It was a long time in coming but Dick Donovan of the White Sox won his first major league game in his 29th game in the majors by defeating the Red Sox 7-0.

Previously Donovan had participated in 25 games for the Boston Braves between 1950 and 1952, and the two games for the Tigers last year. He had pitched once for the White Sox before his initial win.

Cardinals Release Stydahar, Richards Named Successor

CHICAGO, June 2 (INS) — Joe Stydahar, coach of the Chicago Cardinals' football club, was given his release today by the Cards and his aide, Ray Richards, was named as his successor.

Cards executive director Walter Wolfner said a satisfactory arrangement had been worked out with Stydahar regarding his contract at $16,000 per year, which still had a year to run.

Stydahar came to the Cards two years ago after he was dismissed as coach of the Los Angeles Rams.

Monarchs Sign Paige

KANSAS CITY, June 2 (AP)—Baseball's hardy perennial, Leroy (Satchel) Paige is back on a payroll today.

T. Y. Baird, owner of the Kansas City Monarchs of the Negro American League, said he had signed the venerable righthander for "something in the neighborhood of $40,000."

Paige has been on the loose since he was released by the Baltimore Orioles last year.

Radio And Television

An Old Cohan Lark

"Pigeons and People" opened on Broadway in 1933 in the depth of the depression when you could buy the best seats in the theatre for $2 and Radio City Music Hall had just opened. In short, a long time ago. George M. Cohan wrote it for himself to play and it was my great good fortune to see him play it.

"Pigeons and People" is not so much a play as a lark, and its opening in 1933 left the critics delighted but bewildered. "One left the theater," wrote Percy Hammond in the New York Herald Tribune, "convinced that he had been amused but unable to tell his neighbors much about the character that had amused him."

And small wonder. As the curtain opens, a well-to-do young man is leading into his apartment a seedy, white-haired man (George M. Cohan) whom, it appears, he had picked up in the park where he was talking to the pigeons. Heath is fascinated by his newfound friend, Parker, and wants to offer him the run of the house. This, it develops, is a great mistake.

Before many minutes pass, Parker has the place in an uproar. Without ever deviating from the strict truth, he somehow plants into his host's head—and later his friends and girl's and housekeeper's heads—that he is first a simple bum, next a possible murderer, next a very important person, and next a nut. The police arrive and are similarly confounded. And when he leaves the apartment two hours later after puncturing a good many of our human conventions and pretentions, you still didn't know what the man was—knave or saint or mountebank or philosopher. (He'd been a bit of all of them.)

Cohan was getting on when he wrote it and he had about half a century of stage experience behind him when he played it. He threw in every trick he knew—and he knew 'em all—and the result was not so much great acting as simply magnificent performing, a greatly different thing. He'd start a line on one side of the stage, finish it on the other; he'd turn his back on the audience and march off in all directions; he had one line—"I was just sittin' there on a park bench minding my own business"—which he said about twelve times, each time with a different inflection; sometimes he'd just stare at another actor—his expression slowly changing from malice, to exasperation to amusement—and bring down the house.

He played the whole two hours without intermission (though they inserted one later on the road to give the customers a breather) and he left the stage just twice—simply to tease the audience. (He was back on stage within a matter of seconds.) I've never seen anything quite like it.

I think Edward Andrews who undertook the role on "Studio One" the other night deserves a medal for conspicuous courage in trying to follow him (though I don't suppose there are too many of us who saw Cohan.) Actually, I thought Andrews did very well in a role that requires a constant change of mood and character and pace. (But he's no George Cohan.)

Cut down to less than an hour "Pigeons and People" came off far better than I had dared to hope on television. Mr. Andrews frisked about the stage—making love to Mr. Heath's housekeeper, playing pattycake with a psychiatrist who had been sent up to examine him and unhinging a police detective—as if he were having the time of his life, a mood he imparted to all of us at home.

I'm happy they tried it on television. I have an idea that this sort of play—if it is one—is even more suited to TV than to the theater. In short, a character study, a philosophic ramble and a chance for some good actor to have a field day is just right for fifty-three minutes of television.

HIS OWN FAULT

IT IS always annoying and frustrating to lose a trick to the singleton king of trumps, and of course it is much worse when that king is the only trump in the hands of the enemy. That particular fate befell South in the deal below, but it was nevertheless his own fault that the circumstance had a fatal effect on the game contract.

South dealer.
East-West vulnerable.

	♠ K J 5 ♥ J 10 9 8 6 ♦ A 10 ♣ 8 7 3
♠ Q 6 2 ♥ K ♦ J 9 7 5 4 3 2 ♣ 4 2	N W E S	♠ 9 8 7 3 ♥ — ♦ K Q 6 ♣ A K Q J 10 6
	♠ A 10 4 ♥ A Q 7 5 4 3 2 ♦ 8 ♣ 9 5

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 ♥	Pass	3 ♥	4 ♣
4 ♥	Pass	Pass	Pass

East, with 150 honors to "take the sting out of a set," gave long consideration to another club bid at the five-level, but he wisely concluded that such strong competition was not worth while. The opponents were not vulnerable—let them make their four-heart contract if they could. Five clubs might go down four tricks—950 points net.

West opened his partner's suit and East collected two tricks, then continued with a third high club—and South was in a quandary. If West had the blank king of trumps, he would be sure to make it, no matter how South maneuvered, but if East had it, South could ruff this third club lead and lay down the trump ace. So South ruffed. West over-ruffed with the king and returned the diamond jack—and now everything depended on declarer's guess in the spade suit. Figuring that East ought to have the spade queen for his vulnerable bid at the four-level, declarer took the finesse against East, and down he went.

South didn't analyze the hand very well. It was an absolute safety play to trump the third club with the ace. South could next cash the diamond ace and ruff away dummy's diamond ten, then concede the trick to the blank king of trumps. Whoever took this trick, West or East, would either have to yield a ruff-and-discard by returning a diamond or a club, or, by leading a spade, give South an automatic finesse in that suit. The great flaw in South's decision was that it left West with a safe exit.

$1,300 Reported Stolen From Apartment Here

$4,220 Is Taken In Series Of Thefts

A local resident notified police yesterday that between $1,200 and $1,300 in cash and two government checks were taken from a dresser drawer in the bedroom of his second floor apartment, 508 Park Street.

Carl Keller told police that the theft of the money took place sometime between 7 p. m. Wednesday and 1 p. m. yesterday.

There were 20 $20 bills and 75 $1 bills in the envelope as well as about $825 in $10 and $5 bills. Also included in the theft, according to Keller, were two government checks, one for $17 and the other for $72.

Keller told police he placed the envelope with the money in the top dresser drawer of his bedroom on Wednesday. He left the bedroom door open and went to the bathroom in the rear of the kitchen.

Later he returned to the bedroom and went to bed, locking the bedroom door. About noon yesterday he went to the drawer to get the money but it was gone.

The street door to the second floor apartment was not locked, Keller added. Working with Van on the grand larceny is Detective Thomas J. See.

On May 30, $120 was reported taken from Schriver's One-Stop Service Station, 101 Henderson Avenue. Police said Joseph Schriver reported the money was taken from a newspaper-covered metal box in an office desk drawer between 8:15 and 9:20 a. m. May 31.

Entrance to the safe was made by knocking a hole through the plaster and tile block on the side of the safe-room. Local authorities have questioned a number of suspects and are awaiting a report from the FBI on one suspect.

On May 8, safecrackers got away with $2,000 in cash by ripping and cutting their way into a large safe at Albert's Market on Route 40 about six miles west of here.

Recall Boosts Keyser Shop Staff To 550

One More Car Repair Unit Ordered By B&O

The immediate recall of 225 car repairmen to five repair centers of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad will boost employment at the Keyser car shops to an all-time high.

Officials yesterday said that 50 men have been called back, effective immediately, at the freight car shops at Keyser, 50 at Lorain, Ohio, 50 at East Salamanca, N. Y., 50 at Painesville, Ohio, and 25 at Glenwood, Pa., for a total of 225.

Through February, the railroad said, a total of 2,400 car repairmen were recalled to service by the B & O.

The men are being asked to return to work as soon as possible, and the new unit is expected to be in operation by Monday.

Fort Hill Seniors Get 30 Awards At Graduation

George Eskin and Mary Dailey were presented Welcome Home prizes last night at the 27th annual graduation exercises of Fort Hill High School, at which 267 seniors received their diplomas.

The Welcome Home prizes, gold medals, are awarded to the most outstanding boy and girl in the Senior Class on the basis of scholarship, loyalty, service, character and leadership. The winners are selected by their fellow senior high school students with the approval of the faculty. Eskin's award was donated by the First National Bank and Miss Dailey's came from the Cumberland Savings Bank.

Victor D. Heisey, Fort Hill principal, handed out some 30 awards to 25 different members of the graduating class. Earlier, Edward J. Ryan, member of the Allegany County Board of Education, had presented the diplomas.

Besides her Welcome Home prize Miss Dailey also received the S. T. Little Jewelry Company gold medal for having the highest average in English.

Dolores Rowley and Melvin Ritter received the Penn Avenue-Fort Hill Alumni Association awards, $10 in cash, for having maintained highest scholastic achievement in four years of high school. Miss Rowley also was given the music department award as an accompanist. Ritter was presented two other prizes, the $50 National Honor Society award and the Bausch and Lomb science medal.

Two awards were presented to Barbara Thuss. She won the Cresap Chapter DAR cash award as the outstanding girl citizen. She also received the $5 award offered by Miss Nellie Willison to the writer of "Highlights."

Other honor recipients included Beverly Reynolds, Cumberland Music and Arts Club medal; Mary Wheeler, $5 National Thespian prize; Eugene Auvil, $10 South Cumberland Planing Mill prize for excellence in mathematics; Sue Lindeman, $5 senior writer's award; Patricia Weaver, Readers Digest prize to valedictorian, and Donald Squires, $5 industrial arts prize.

Honors also went to Mary Bloss,

Many Schools Desegregate By Next Fall

Administrative, Legal Questions Are Raised

BALTIMORE, June 2 (AP)—Public schools in some Maryland counties will throw their doors open to both Negro and white pupils next fall for the first time, it was indicated today at a statewide meeting of education officials.

But the progress of desegregation, it was pointed out, probably will take longer in other counties, depending on local problems.

Dr. Thomas G. Pullen Jr., state superintendent of schools, said just how long will be left largely in the hands of the county school superintendents.

Pullen said a conference with State Atty. Gen. C. Ferdinand Sybert gave him the impression that the district federal courts or, in some cases, State courts would determine whether the county officials make the "prompt and reasonable" start toward desegregation required by the Supreme Court ruling.

Pullen Confident

To forestall any possibility of deliberate delay, Pullen repeated he is confident last Tuesday's Supreme Court ruling will meet with no "chicanery, trickery or devious attempt to circumvent it."

There was no declaration by any of the 23 county superintendents at today's luncheon meeting that his county would either press for early, complete integration of the races in schools or shy away from putting the Supreme Court order into effect as long as possible.

But the session—called for a discussion of administrative and legal questions raised by the ruling — produced these signs:

1. Pullen told the officials it was understood that there might be fewer problems in desegregating schools in some counties—for instance, in Western Maryland—than in others. Garrett County, for example, now has no Negroes of school age. Calvert County's enrollment is about 50-50; Charles' is nearly that even, and Somerset has about three white pupils for every two Negroes.

"No Great Problem"

2. William M. Brish, superintendent of Washington County schools, said after the meeting he felt desegregation would be "no great problem" there.

3. W. Stewart Fitzgerald, Caroline County superintendent, commented Negro and white teachers had held joint meetings there "for several years." Now that the Supreme Court's final ruling had been issued, he added, these meetings will include discussions on moving toward desegregation. Caroline County is about 25 miles from Milford, Del., scene of prolonged disorders after the 1954 court ruling.

4. Harry C. Rhodes, Queen Anne's superintendent, said the question already has been discussed with teachers and civic leaders in his county, home of former State Sen. Edward Turner. Last year Turner, in running for Congress, took an open stand in favor of continuing segregation.

"We are not going to hide behind anything," said Rhodes, "We're going to try to work it out.

"But some of the Negro people themselves don't want to rush things," he said.

Maryland's approach to compliance with the Supreme Court ruling was demonstrated at the meeting by a series of questions asked by the superintendents and the answers Pullen gave them.

Allegany High Will Graduate 227 Tonight

Allegany High School will conduct its 67th commencement at 8:15 o'clock this evening in the school auditorium.

The class oration will be delivered by Judy Bennett. Invocation and benediction will be offered by Rev. Harold L. May, assistant pastor of Centre Street Methodist Church.

Musical selections will include "Glory To God in the Highest" by the choral club; "You'll Never Walk Alone" by the choir; "Mountains" by the glee club, choral club and choir seniors, and finally "Dear Old High School" by the seniors.

Mrs. Stanley Buckley, member of the Allegany County Board of Education, will present the diplomas and Raymond O. McCullough, principal, will announce the honor winners.

Film Will Feature Youth Rally Here

A film, "Missionary to Walker's Garage," will be shown at the Tri-State Youth for Christ Rally to be held Saturday at 8 p.m. in the Salvation Army Citadel here.

The film will be shown in place of an address scheduled by Rev. Henry Kulp, pastor of Altoona Bible Church, Altoona, who had to defer his visit here until June 11.

B'er Chayim Temple Summer Schedule Set

Beginning today and continuing throughout the summer, Sabbath services will be held at 7:30 p. m. at B'er Chayim Temple.

Today-Judaism and the Democratic Ideal; June 10, Judaism and Science; June 17, The Jewish Contribution to Medicine; June 24, The Jewish Contribution to Music.

Carver High Seniors Get Diplomas

Frank Page Wins Four School Awards

The presentations were made by Earle L. Bracey, school principal. Kenneth R. Malcolm, president of the Allegany County Board of Education, handed diplomas to the 10 graduates, seven boys and three girls.

Earlier in the evening, the graduates, fellow students, parents and friends heard an address by Dr. Vincent J. Browne, associate professor of government and assistant to the president of Howard University in Washington. It was almost a homecoming for Dr. Browne, who is a native of Meyersdale, Pa.

Awards which were presented to Page included a citizenship award offered by the National Society of the Sons of the American Revolution, an apprentice membership in Carpenters' Local Union No. 1024 as the outstanding woodworking student among the seniors in Allegany County high schools, a prize donated by the Wilson Hardware Company for excellence in industrial arts and a prize for outstanding sportsmanship in athletics.

Danford Foundation awards for leadership were received by Elizabeth Ann Lee and Paul Francis Washington. Miss Lee also was the recipient of the Readers Digest award for the highest scholastic average and the DAR good citizenship award. Paul Washington also got a certificate for participation in the 1955 high school contest on the United Nations.

A similar certificate went to Herman Joseph Washington along with the Music and Arts Club prize for maximum participation in music during his three years of senior high school.

Genevieve Ida Cole was presented an award for excellence in English and Judith Leath, James Courtney and Robert Lewis also received prizes for sportsmanship in athletics.

Three awards were presented to other students at Carver. Valentina Ball won a citizenship award. Nellie White won the 1955 award in Americanism for excellence in American history, donated by Fulton Myers Auxiliary. Vieda Clanagan won a prize for mathematics.

Polio Vaccine 'Out' Before School Closes

A spokesman said the Allegany County Health Department has had no word from Baltimore as to when the program can resume, and that remaining time in the school term is running out.

An Associated Press dispatch yesterday said it seemed unlikely that inoculations will be resumed in Maryland until after school is dismissed for the summer.

Dr. Edward Davens, director of the state program, conceded that inoculations on an individual basis will have to be arranged.

He said he had received no information that release of 200,000 shots of the vaccine by the federal government included any for Maryland. The state has about 123,000 first and second graders to inoculate.

Before the inoculations were suspended, 110,000 children had received their first of two shots. The state has 12,000 doses for those children who didn't get the first shots, but Dr. Davens said he isn't sure they will be approved for use.

Dr. Davens said arrangements for administering the first and second shots whenever the vaccine becomes available probably will be left up to the individual county health departments.

The Allegany County Health Department completed giving first shots of polio vaccine to 3,615 first and second graders in April.

Girl Scout Troop Has Annual Picnic

Girl Scout Troop No. 19 held its annual picnic Tuesday in Constitution Park.

Among those who participated were Bonnie Miller, Lynn Allee, Sharan Leasure, Carol Allee, Jill Evans, Verna Evans, Sharon Feltz, Bonnie Aldridge, Janet Heming, Carolyn Durrett, Ann Williams, Barbara Cramer, Geraldine Farrell, Louise Glessner, Jean Purucker, Virginia Mellott, Dixie Kuhn, Mrs. Betty Chaney, Mrs. A. Cioni, and Mrs. Charles Cramer.

Polish Mountain Beer License Requests Denied

County Board Rejects Both Applications

Almost identical opinions denying two applications for beer licenses in premises on Polish Mountain were filed yesterday by the Allegany County Board of Alcoholic Beverages License Commissioners.

The applications had been filed by Hetzel M. Pifer, for premises on the east side of Polish Mountain near the top, and by Russell V. Nierman and Ernest Poole, for premises about one mile from the top of the mountain.

Hearings on both applications were conducted by the board May 17.

Pifer's property include a garage, restaurant and a cottage. The nearest residence is about 100 yards away on the opposite side of the road. Pifer testified that about 25 or 30 dwellings are located within one mile from this location.

The other location is a two-story building consisting of a restaurant and store room on the first floor and apartment on the second floor. The nearest dwelling is one-tenth of a mile away on the highway. Nierman testified that 10 properties are located within one mile of the premises and approximately 50 persons live within a radius of one mile.

In both unanimous opinions of the three-man board, the members stated that the place is a sparsely settled community and is without any police protection except the occasional passing of State Police.

"The Board repeats that it has been its policy not to grant licenses along the highways of Allegany County, far removed from towns and villages," the opinions state. "However, in this particular case, wholly aside from the policy of the board, this license cannot be granted because it violates the specific provisions of sub-section (b) of Section 43 of the Alcoholic Beverages Laws set forth in Article 2B of the Annotated Code, as follows:

"43 Allegany County (b) No license for beer, or beer and light wines, Classes A and B, or for beer, and liquor, Classes A, B and D, shall be granted to any person or persons whose location or business shall be in any part of Allegany County except incorporated towns and cities and communities in which there shall be not less than 500 bona fide residents within a radius of one mile."

"The application, must, therefore, be rejected," said the board.

The opinions were signed by Walter C. Capper, chairman; Stanley O. Hamilton and Howard W. Vandegrift, the new Democrat member of the board.

Search Continues For Missing Man

A search, now going into the third week, is being continued in an effort to locate M. V. "Mike" Brannen, 73-year-old Keyser, W. Va., resident who disappeared from his home on May 13.

Mineral County authorities as well as West Virginia State Police have joined in the search. The Potomac River in the immediate Keyser area has been dragged and a concentrated search has been conducted along the banks of the river. Brannen is a former police chief of Westernport.

Local Plastics Plant Completing Air Force Contract

Artmor Plastics Corporation, Oldtown Road, a local industry founded by Arthur C. Morgan of Pennsylvania Avenue, is making steady progress.

Competing with some of the nation's largest producers of such items on a competitive bid basis, the local firm obtained this, its largest single contract to date, and has it about completed.

Morgan explains that the item is a shatter-proof, fire-resistant, non-corrosive and non-conducting plastic box used for handling and shipping small parts and instruments of a delicate and sensitive nature. The boxes are so designed that they can be stacked and handled easily, and are manufactured on a heat-pressure method, to sensitive specifications. About 10,000 tons of specially prepared sheet plastic material will go into the completed job.

In the photo here, the press operator, Paul A. Eirich, is removing a molded box from the press. It then passes to a trimmer who completes the operation.

The press used in molding the boxes was made by Morgan and his employes, with an assist from a local welding firm and several local industries who loaned Morgan parts he needed, so he could meet the contract deadline.

Morgan said the job opens the way for many similar items needed by private industry and commerce, as well as by the military. This contract is in addition to a number of other items in steady production at this plant.
